MUST ABDICATE SAY REPUBLICANS

Drastic Ultimatum Issued by New Government.

Powers Are Appealed To for Recognition in Circular Issued by Wang Chun Wai, Foreign Minister of the Republican Government.

Nanking, January 19.—It now appears to be absolutely certain that fighting between the revolutionists and imperialists will be resumed on the morning of January 28 unless the premier Yuan Shi Kai concedes the demands of the republican government.

Those demands, which were telegraphed today to Premier Yuan Sho Kai, at Pekin, are drastic and substantially as follows:

"Abdication of the throne and surrender of the sovereign powers.

"No Manchu may participate in the provisional government; the capital of the provisional government cannot be established at Pekin; Premier Yuan Shi Kai cannot participate in the provisional government until the republic has been recognized by the foreign powers and the country has been restored to peace."

Today's decided action by the republican government is due to Premier Yuan Shi Kai's demand that Dr. Sun Yat Sen resign the presidency, permitting Yuan Shi Kai to exercise sovereign powers until the national convention which is to be called to decide on the form of government of China shall have reached a conclusion. In the meantime Premier Yuan Shi Kai desires the court to retire temporarily, transferring its powers to him. The court, however, objected to leaving Pekin until the national convention had reached a decision.

Conference Held.

Pekin, China, January 19.—The princes of the imperial clan, a number of leading Manchu officials and several members of the government had a protracted conference this morning with the empress dowager at the palace, but again separated without arriving at a decision on the question of abdication.

The leading princes favored an unconditional abdication of the throne. Three of the younger princes, together with Tiah Liang, the former tartar general at Nanking, would not, however, agree to the court's retirement to Jehol, although they did not suggest an alternative.

It is reported in Chinese circles that the ex-regent, Prince Chun, suggests the abdication of the throne, the court to remain in Pekin and Yuan Shi Kai to establish a provisional northern government at Tien Tsin pending the decision of the national convention as to the future form of government.

The Mongol princes who most strenuously oppose abdication are those of inner Mongolia and those from the districts south of the desert. Their opposition is strengthened by fear that the republicans will confiscate their estates.

Premier Yuan Shi Kai was invited several times to participate in the conference of the princes, but he steadfastly refused as he desired to leave the decision entirely to the court.

The situation continues tense. It seems impossible that Pekin can escape eventually a Manchu outbreak. Soldiers belonging to the imperial bodyguard today openly distributed leaflets summoning the people to defend the constitutional monarchy unto death, but it is unlikely that any persons except the Manchus will fight for the monarchy.

It is currently reported that the irreconcilable Prince Tsai Tao, brother of the ex-regent, is inciting the Manchu troops to cause trouble.

Want Recognition.

Nanking, January 19—The republican government today sent an appeal to the powers for recognition. This took the form of a circular which was sent to Washington, Tokio, London, Paris, Berlin and St. Petersburg and was signed by Wang Chang Wei, the foreign minister of the republican cabinet.

The terms of the circular are as follows:

"The Manchu government having entered into negotiation with the republic of China for the purpose of abdicating its entire sovereign rights, powers and privileges, we fervently pray for recognition in order to avoid a disastrous interregnum.

(Signed) "WANG CHUN WEI,
"Foreign Minister."

President Sun Yat Sen today said to the Associated Press that he had sworn to oust the Manchu leaders, establish a republic and restore peace to the country before resigning. In face of this he could not consider Yuan Shi Kai's proposition that he quit.

Dr. Sun reiterated his conviction that a republic is the best thing for China, that the best thought of China undoubtedly supports a republic, that there is no question of north and south, so far as a division of authority goes. Dr. Sun said the leaders are confident of the righteousness of their cause and of the superiority of their military strength, and declared that if Yuan barred the way to a republic "our armies will be ordered to march northward."

SEEKS RENO BALM FOR WEDDED LIFE

J. F. Fender, of Ashburn, Says Wife and Her Brother Plotted His Murder.

Reno, Nevada, January 19.—(Special.)—J. F. Fender, of Ashburn, Ga., has filed suit for divorce from Mittie E. Fender for the second time. A year ago he appeared before Judge Moran but a decree was refused on account of non-legal residence.

The complaint is the same as he charges his wife with conspiring with her brother to murder him in order to secure his life insurance of $25,000. When he confronted them while plotting, he states, the brother-in-law shot him several times and then hacked him with a bowie knife. The brother was found guilty of attempted murder, and sentenced to 8 years in the penitentiary.

His wife's family, he says, then declared a blood fued and he left the country.

He represents that he was a big man in the turpentine, rosin and lumber industry.

RELEASE PAPERS GIVEN TO MORSE

Wife Arrives As Special Messenger from Washington.

"Happiest Day of My Life," She Tells Friends on Arrival in Atlanta—Morse's Friends to Hold Conference Soon on Plans for Future.

"It's the happiest day of my life," said Mrs. Charles W. Morse yesterday afternoon when she reached Atlanta at 5:15 o'clock on the Southern railway, coming as the special messenger of the government bearing the official commutation papers which make her husband a free man.

She was met at the Terminal station by Mrs. Fred Seely and in her auto taken to the post hospital at Fort McPherson, where Morse has been an inmate since November, and where he will remain until he is strong enough to be moved to some place in Atlanta prepared for him by his friends.

The meeting between the husband and wife was witnessed by no one except Morse's sister, who was at the post hospital when Mrs. Morse was driven up.

Remains With Husband.

Within a few minutes after Mrs. Morse reached the hospital Mrs. Seely returned to the city, bringing Miss Morse with her to the Piedmont. When Mrs. Morse was left at the hospital she announced her determination to remain with her husband as long as she posibly could.

Shortly after 9 o'clock, she left the fort and returned to the Piedmont hotel.

Morse's daughter did not return with Mrs. Morse. She is with one of her brothers in Baltimore, where she wil remain for a few days, when it is expected that two brothers in business in that city will come to Atlanta to congratulate their father upon his release from prison and to be with him a few days.

So far no arrangements for the removal of the one-time prisoner from the military post hospital have been made, and it is not expected by those familiar with Morse's present condition that an attempt will be made to move him for a week. His condition Friday was not much different phiysically from that of the day before, but mentally he is said to have been brighter, while he was not as nervous as he had been for some days. Dr. Fowler visited his patient during the day and late in the evening, replying to a question over the phone, said from the hospital that Morse was too sick to receive any visitors.

Morse's Friends to Confer.

It is understood that Morse's friends have not fully decided upon any course of action, but that a conference will be held by these Atlanta friends within the next day or two to decide on what ought to be done. Of course, any action his friends may essay in his behalf will depend entirely upon the advice of his attending physician. No attempt will be made to remove the sick man at least for a week, as it will take that time, under the most favorable conditions, to bring strength enough for the patient to stand even the short ride into the city from the post.

Friends who saw Mrs. Morse after she arrived in Atlanta Friday afternoon and passengers on the train which brought her down declare that the release of her husband had completely changed her. She seems years younger and appeared as happy as could be. To an acquaintance on the train she declared that it was the happiest day of her life, and that she really never knew what happiness was before.

WILEY CLEARED OF ALL CHARGES

Chemistry Chief Sustained by Investigating Committee.

Recommend That He Be Given Free Hand in Indorsement of Pure Food and Drug Law. Solicitor McCabe Sheared of His Former Power.

Washington, January 19.—Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, chief of the chemistry bureau of the department of agriculture and storm center of the food administration last summer, is given a clean bill of health in the report of the house committee that investigated the charges and countercharges. The committee, in its report, which will be presented to the house next Monday, sustains Dr. Wiley all along the line, except on unimportant details.

The evidence taken in the case was voluminous, but the report is confined to the actual conclusions of the committee. The republican members of the committee joined with the democrats in making the report unanimous.

"There is no politics in the report," said Chairman Moss, of the committee. This fact, together with compromises on some of the matters about which the members of the committee had differences of view, permitted a full agreement.

Give Wiley Free Hand.

The report pays much attention to the Remsen board, to the activity of Solicitor McCabe, who was the principal opponent of Dr. Wiley in the department, and its recommendations in geenral recommend that Dr. Wiley be given a free hand in the indorsement of the pure food and drug law, thus limiting very largely power formerly exercised by Solicitor McCabe. This limitation already has been put into effect under the action taken by President Taft shortly after the adjournment of the extra session brought the active congressional investigation to a close.

The final stamp of approval of the conclusions was affixed by all the members of the committee today. The committee ordered the report printed confidentially, and declined to announce the recommendations until the report is made public next Monday.

The investigation was made by the house committee on expenditures in the department of agriculture, and its hearings during the recent extra session of congress awakened wide national interest. Secretary of Agriculture Wilson, Dr. Wiley, Solicitor McCabe and a host of other witnesses contributed to the symposium of revelations regarding the demoralized conditions surrounding the administration of pure food laws.

Wiley's Stand.

In the course of these hearings Dr. Wiley told how most of his rulings were arbitrarily overruled, that there were few cases of drug law violations prepared because many lines of inquiry were taken out of his hands and turned over to the Remsen referee boar for investigation. He said his hands were thus "absolutely paralyzed." His decisions conflicted with the Remsen board and he said the least that could be done for the public's protection was to prohibit the use of foods or drugs until the board had decided in favor of their use. He added that this policy had not been carried out. Te big controversy between him and the Remsen board was over the chemistry bureau's finding that benzoate of soda was harmful.

Virtually the only dissent from the sweeping verdict for Dr. Wiley is based upon the irregular employment of Dr. H. H. Rusby, of New York, as a $20 a day expert, a compensation which was not to aggregate over $1,600 in any one year, the amount authorized under law. It was for this employment at that per diem rate, to get around the official limitation of pay for such services to $1,600, that the personnel board of the department first, and then Attorney General Wickersham, recommended the removal of Dr. Wiley from office.

Dr. Wiley's assistant, Dr. Dunlap, found a memorandum of the agreement on this subject when Dr. Wiley was absent and reported, it to Secretary Wilson. Dr. Dunlap almost invariably sided with Solicitor McCabe in the decisions of the pure food board, of which Dr. Wiley was the other member.

Useless to Appeal.

Dr. Wiley told the committee just five months ago that he found it useless to appeal to Secretary Wilson, and that he had "practically surrendered" his authority for enforcing the pure food law to McCabe and Dunlap. He declared the Rusby contract necessary to secure his services. He said that in using a letter from Dr. Rusby regarding his prospective services as an expert, the personnel board had omitted the most essential portion of the letter, the statement of Dr. Rusby that the arrangement for his services had been agreed upon as a fair and satisfactory, "if approved by the department." Dr. Wiley testified that he had fully explained to Secretary Wilson the terms of the arrangement with Dr. Rusby.

NEARLY 10 YEARS IN COURT, ST. AMAND-MARSH SUIT ENDS

Nearly 10 years in court, the suit of J. G. St. Amand against the Marsh estate was finally settled yesterday in Judge Pendleton's court, when a verdict in the plaintiff's favor was returned by the jury. Extra compensation to Mr. St. Amand, as executor of the estate of E. W. Marsh, was allowed in the sum of $3,650.

On the death of E. W. Marsh, in 1900 Mr. St. Amand took up the duties of executor, with a written agreement with the heirs, McAllen Marsh, Spencer S. Marsh and Mrs. Adair, that he should be managing executor and that all deals should be made through him. He was to be allowed one-half of the legal fees to which the executors were entitled.

In 1903 a dispute arose over a bill for extra compensation rendered by the executor, and Samuel Nesbitt Evans was appointed as auditor. He found in the executor's favor and the matter was carried to the supreme court. On technicalities the writ was sent back to a jury in the lower court, with direction. The verdict Friday was the closing of the case.

The suit has attracted widespread attention, as much from its length and age as from the prominence of the parties concerned.

PREACHER TAKEN BACK FOR TRIAL

Rev. McFarland Goes to Pittsburg to Answer to Alleged Murder.

Knoxville, Tenn., January 19.—Rev. W. D. McFarland, D. D., left this city this afternoon soon after 2 o'clock on a belated Louisville and Nashville train en route to Pittsburg. He was in custody of a Pittsburg detective, who is conveying him from Greeneville to Pittsburg, where he is wanted in connection with the death of Elsie Dodds Coe, his former secretary. Dr. McFarland was met upon his arrival at the Southern railway station here by Rev. R. W. McGranahan, D. D., president of Knoxville college, a colored institution maintained by the United Presbyterian church.

Some time ago Dr. McFarland applied for a position in the faculty of this institution, but there being no vacancy he was not called. Dr. McGranahan refrained from mentioning the unfortunate affair, in which Dr. McFarland is now engrossed. Their conversation pertained to personal relations and matters of ther church and educational works. Dr. McGranahan declares that he believes Dr. McFarland will be able to prove himself innocent of any wrong-doing.

During the more than three hours' wait in this city, Dr. McFarland and the detective having him in custody toured the business section of the city. He was not handcuffed. He declined to make any statement further than that he is innocent. Dr. McFarland should reach Cincinnati tonight about 10 o'clock, and if connections are made he will reach Pittsburg tomorrow morning, otherwise tomorrow afternoon or night.

NATIONAL WEEKLY FOR SOUTHERNER

Collier's Carries Laudatory Comment on Underwood.

Leaders in Washington Say That Tremendous Impetus Has Been Given to Boom of Brilliant and Progressive Alabamian.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, January 19.—(Special.) Democratic political leaders in congress were stirred today upon the arrival of the current issue of Collier's The National Weekly, which carries a strong editorial, regarded, in effect, as a hearty indorsement of the candidacy of Oscar W. Underwood, of Alabama, for the presidency.

The editorial is particularly significant, coming as is does from Collier's, and written by Mark Sullivan, Collier's Washington representative, who has been the aggressive leader in all of that publication's progressive movements.

Mr. Sullivan, after quoting from a laudatory comment from The Wall Street Journal, shows why Congressman Underwood could unite both factions of the party, and present to the enemy a solid front. Collier's asserts that the "urking fear" that he would be handicapped as a vote-getter by reason of being a southerner is growing less all the time in the minds of the New York and eastern leaders, who are eager to support the progressive southerner whose splendid generalship in the management of the democratic congress is responsible for the present militant spirit of the party.

The effect of the editorial in Collier's, together with a glowing tribute paid Congressman Underwood by Samuel G. Blythe, political writer for The Saturday Evening Post, is to give to the Underwood candidacy an impetus which, many of the political leaders here assert, will result in his nomination at the Baltimore convention.

Collier's Editorial.

"An important trend in the democratic presidential situation, which has not yet become obvious, is suggested by this paragraph from The Wall Street Journal:

"'The leader of the majority in the house of representatives at Washington, Mr. Underwood, spent the first half of the present week in this city (New York). Ostensibly he took this brief vacation so that he might conveniently accept invitations to make a public address. But he doubtless was as fully persuaded to spend a few days in New York by an invitation sent to him last week to become the guest of honor at a private, somewhat informal, dinner. Mr. Underwood learned that at this dinner there would be some thirty or forty representative citizens of New York. Some of them are of his own party, some of them prominent as republicans. All of them are men distinguished for professional, educational, or other achievements. This dinner was held on Monday evening of this week, and of it the public has had no knowledge. There were no formal speeches. Instead, the informal questioning, conversation, and exchange of views which are frequently of so much greater consequence than set addresses, kept the host at the dinner table until a late hour. It is sufficient, perhaps, to say that Mr. Underwood charmed every one of the guests, not merely by the revelation of that unusual gift of personality which has served him so well as leader in the house, but also by the acuteness, and well as the broad-mindedness, of his comments on conditions as these now exist in the United States.'

Turn to Underwood.

"There is a disposition on the part of those conservative business men who are commonly supposed to be supporting Harmon, to turn from the Ohio man and look with increasing favor on Underwood. As one of the most powerful of the old democratic machine leaders in the east expressed it: 'Harmon's been on the shelf a long time; he's getting shop-worn.' Underwood is a sound progressive on the tariff, and that, together with his splendid generalship in the management of the democratic congress, commends him to the radicals; on such issus as the initiative and referendum, he is an avowed stand-patter; that commends him to the conservatives. The New York and eastern leaders would probably make up their minds definitely to back Underwood but for a lurking fear that he may be handicapped as a vote-getter by the fact that he is a southerner, a doubt which grows less the longer it is looked in the face."

TRAYNHAM HOME RUINED BY FIRE

W. L. Traynham Sick at Home When the Blaze Started.

The handsome colonial home of W. L. Traynham, on Peachtree Road at the Brookwood bridge, was ruined by fire and water last night shortly after 6 o'clock. The building was unroofed, a considerable portion of the upper story and rear of the house was burned, and the interior of the home was wrecked.

Mr. Traynham, who is one of Atlanta's best known lumber men, has been sick for some time, and was in the house when the fire was discovered. He was able to walk out alone, and took refuge with his family at the home of a neighbor.

The amount of the damage, and the insurance carried, could not be learned last night. The house contained more than 20 rooms and was one of the show places of Atlanta's residence section.

The fire was not discovered until it had made some little headway, and was burning briskly in the roof over a rear bed room. It had apparently started from a nearby flue. An alarm was turned in at 6:10 o'clock.

STATE BANKS MAY BE DEPOSITARIES

Of the United States—No Law Restricting Use of Term.

Washington, January 19.—For the first time in history, the way has been opened, it developed today, for state banks and trust companies to become known as "United States depositaries." Owing to the view of the treasury department, any financial institution in America—national or state bank or trust company—holding postal savings depasits or other government funds, may assume that title without legal impediment, even though the designation is not officially conferred by the secretary of the treasury.

From an unofficial source, it was learned that the treasury department had decided that there is no law restricting the use of the term "United States depositary" to those national banks named by the secretary as depositaries of public money.

This leaves national or state banks or trust companies, in which the trustees of the postal savings system deposit the postal savings funds, or national banks holding certain Indian funds for the secretary of the interior, free to adopt the title.

The privilege of becoming known as a depositary of the nation's funds is much sought by every bank in the country, because it is presumed to convey an advantageous impression of character and stability. Of the 7,300 national banks only about 1,400 are officially designated as "United States depositories." There are 14,00 state banks and trust companies, none of which at the present time are known as depositaries of the federal government.

Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh, it is said, is constantly being besieged by senators and representatives in congress to make national banks in their states or districts "United State depositaries." In many cases one or two banks in a town are now so designated, while others in the same community are not. This, it is declared, works virtually as a discrimination by the government and the treasury department's decision is expected to solve the problem in a large measure.

$7,000 TO PAVE HIGHLAND AVENUE

Protest of the Citizens Proves to Be Effective.

Finance Sheet Revision Has Been Completed—Shortage in the School Appropriation Made Good—Private Water Pipe Payment Postponed.

The finance committee has completed revising the money sheet and the members are satisfied that the report which will be presented to council at its next meeting is the best possible allotment of the city's funds for the year 1912.

The school teachers' salary shortage was made good, while the question of payment for private water pipe now used by the city, which would cost some $20,000 was laid aside for future consideration.

A number of minor changes were made in the matter of salaries though no cuts were made. Several city employees will have increased salaries.

The agitation by citizens living on Highland avenue, who went in a body to the home of Judge John S. Candler, chairman of the finance committee on Wednesday night and while on the porch of the residence drew up and signed a petition asking that money be provided for the paving of Highland avenue, seemed to have had effect, for the finance committee allotted $7,000 for the work. This sum was allotted on the first report, but was later withdrawn, causing the meeting Wednesday night.

The meeting held by the finance committee on Friday afternoon was behind closed doors, the body going into executive session.

Several reports told of friction during the session and hinted at a minority report, but this was denied by all the members.

SEVENTEEN GUNS FOR GOV. SLATON

Was Formally Received at Fort McPherson and Given Salute.

Governor John M. Slaton, accompanied by Mrs. Slaton, paid a visit to Fort McPherson yesterday by special invitation of Colonel Van Orsdale, commanding the Seventeenth United States infantry.

The governor was formally received by the officers and troops upon his arrival at the fort, and the governor's salute of seventeen guns was fired.

There followed a review of the regiment, which had been arranged especially in honor of Governor Slaton's visit, and he spoke in most complimtary terms of the splendid showing made by officers and men.

Following the review, Governor and Mrs. Slaton were entertained at a reception by Colonel and Mrs. Van Orsdale at their home, and there they met the officers of the regiment and their wives.

The occasion may be said to have been one of more than passing interest, inasmuch as it was thoroughly indicative of the cordial good feeling between representatives of state and federal government.

CHAMBER OF DEPUTIES DISSOLVED BY TURKS

Constantinople, January 19.—The dissolution of the chamber of deputies last night, when the minister of justice in the presence of all the deputies read an imperial decree dissolving the assembly, thus closed a brief and profitless session, which was chiefly taken up in quarreling. The new parliament will assemble within three months.

WILSON'S CAUSE HAS BEEN INJURED

Managers of Jerseyite Unable to Estimate Damage.

Judge Robert Ewing Discusses Incident—Wilson and Watterson Silent When Interviewed—Campaign Manager Makes Statement.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, January 19.—(Special.) Nettled by the stinging statement of Colonel Henry Watterson as to what took place at the conference between Governor Woodrow Wilson, Editor George Harvey, of Harper's Weekly, and himself, the supporter of the Wilson boom have hurriedly put out a new explanation of the break.

The rumor is being very industriously circulated that Editor Harvey sought to arrange a meeting between Governor Wilson and Thomas F. Ryan at which the political situation could be taken over. Mr. Wilson was so indignant over the proposal, it is said, that he set Editor Harvey adrift.

This version was called to the attention of Colonel Watterson on his arrival in Washington today. He declined to treat it seriously or to make any further comment at this time. "I have nothing to add to what has already been said unless it is challenged by some responsible person, then I may have a good deal to say."

That Colonel Watterson's criticism has been a severe jolt to the Wilson boom is attested by the reports from all parts of the country. It was not the break with Editor Harvey as much as the loss of the Kentuckian's support and the nature of his criticism that hurt.

In Nebraska, where there had been a strong Wilson propaganda, the democratic state chairman in issuing a call for a special state committee meeting to discuss presidential candidates prefaced his call with the declaration: "Realizing that the statements of Colonel Watterson and Colonel Harvey have made the nomination and election of Governor Wilson an impossibility," etc.

From all quarters of the country came dispatches stating that the Wilson managers were greatly upset and were unable to estimate just how much damage would be done to the Wilson movement or whether it would quickly rally from its temporary quiescence. Governor Wilson in Detroit declined to reply to the statement further than to say: "Colonel Watterson is a nice old gentleman, but I have no reply to make to him not just now."

Friends of Governor Wilson took an optimistic view of the situation. They said that Colonel Watterson is a good man to have behind you when you are seeking a democratic presidential nomination, but they added that Governor Wilson will easily survive the attack, and that in the end it will reflect credit upon his judgment and courage. The New York World today editorially commends Governor Wilson for his stand.

JUDGE ROBERT EWING DISCUSSES INCIDENT

Nashville, Tenn., January 19.—Robert Ewing, middle Tennessee representative of the state Woodrow Wilson organization and related by marriage to both Governor Wilson and Henry Watterson, today gave out a statement relative to the Harvey incident.

"It so happens," says the statement, "that I am prepared to give to the people of Tennessee what I believe to be a substantially correct account of a meeting which took place in New York city some three weeks ago between Colonel Harvey, the able and well-known editor of Harper's Weekly; Henry Watterson, editor of The Courier-Journal, and Governor Wilson."

Judge Ewing says that the publishing house of Harper & Brother which issues Harper's Weekly, was the publisher of Wilson's history of the United States. Some years ago, it was reported that J. P. Morgan furnished that house with some financial aid, but not, as was generally understood, with any political purpose in view. The statement continues:

"Colonel Harvey knew that his editorial utterances were wholly untrammelled, and that whatever he wrote had as its inspiration his sincere conviction of what was best for the country. He had been, years before, brought into intimate connection, in fact, close friendship with Woodrow Wilson, and had conceived the highest estimate of his character and capabilities, as everyone who enjoys like opportunity is bound to do.

Took Up Wilson Cause.

"When the time seemed ripe to him, he, in a series of editorials in Harper's Weekly, presented Woodrow Wilson's name to the democrats of the country as the man, in his judgment, in every way fit to be nominated as the democratic candidate for president. The editorials continued to appear with each issue, growing stronger and stronger until the attention of all readers everywhere was drawn to them. Many not knowing the real independence of Colonel Harvey, and seeking to harm the Wilson cause, began to indulge in all sorts of conjectures as to what could be moving the Weekly to so ardently champion Wilson's nomination, while others did not hesitate to put these conjectures into unfounded intimations. As a result, a goodly number of Wilson's real friends began to be of the opinion that perhaps the Weekly's constant and earnest support was militating somewhat against his prospects."

The statement says that Governor Wilson himself was decidedly of the contrary opinion, appreciating that Colonel Harvey had prominently brought him to the front and appreciating Harvey's support and feeling it valuable. He felt more bound, however, by most sacred ties of friendship and gratitude, it is said, which rather than break or fail to observe, he would doubtless have withdrawn.

At this juncture the meeting in New York was held in the rooms of Colonel Watterson. As Governor Wilson arose to leave the little social gathering, Colonel Harvey is accredited in the statement with saying:

Harvey Made Him Speak.

"'Governor Wilson, I wish to ask you a question and I expect from you a perfectly frank answer. Do you believe that the booming nature of my articles in Harper's Weekly is injuring your cause?'

"Governor Wilson, thus appealed to, was greatly embarrassed. His appreciation, his friendship and his individual opinion all cried out loudly to him to say no, but Colonel Harvey had demanded perfect frankness to him as to an undoubted friend.

"Picture the situation—there sat the three leaders considering what was advisable to do or to omit, and so in perfect frankness, but doubtless with extreme and painful embarrassment Governor Wilson told them what he thought, from what he could learn, was the impression being created by the intensity of his friendly editorials. Colonel Harvey then said:

"'Well, I'll have to put on the soft pedal.' The position of Governor Wilson, alive as he is to the obligations of friendship, was a cruel one, but among friends and particularly political friends, steps of friends which may be of questionable wisdom are considered, as well as what is being done by opponents.

"All parties parted in apparent perfect cordiality. Colonel Harvey may have been then disappointed, and perhaps wounded by the reply. Thinking over the matter since has evidently tended to increase this feeling."

WILSON'S CAMPAIGN MANAGER GIVES OUT A STATEMENT

Washington, January 19.—The Wilson-Harvey episode brought forth today simultaneously with the arrival of Colonel Henry Watterson a statement by William F. McCombs, campaign manager for Woodrow Wilson, declaring that "the tears that are being shed over the passing incident are wrung fro mthose who have hitherto been the most conspicuous opponents of Governor Wilson."

Colonel Watterson, who will be here several days in connection with the work of the Perry memorial commission, read the McCombs statement, as well as the one made today at Nashville, Tenn., by Judge Robert Ewing, but declined to comment on either.

"As to the Wilson matter," said the colonel, "I have nothing to add to what already has been said, unles it be seriously challenged by some responsible person. Then I may have a good deal to say."

Bryan Silent.

Tampa, Fla., January 19.—William J. Bryan was honor guest at a banquet given by the Woodrow Wilson club here tonight at the Tampa Bay hotel. Mr. Bryan made no reference to the tri-cornered controversy between Colonel Henry Watterson, Woodrow Wilson and Colonel Harvey. When asked directly as to his opinion, he stated that he would state his views on the incident in the next issue of The Commoner.

WILSON STILL MAINTAINS A DISCREET SILENCE

Grand Rapids, Mich., January 19.—Governor Woodrow Wilson, of New Jersey, tonight still maintained stolid silence regarding the Harvey-Wilson incident and the attack made on him by Colonel Henry Watterson, absolutely declining to make any statement whatsoever on the subject. When pressed on the matter and asked if he would make a statement and when, if any, he replied that he could not say now if he would reply to it.

The governor, after leaving Detroit, made two rear car platform speeches, and a speech to the students at Ann Arbor before reaching this city.

He was met on arrival here this evening by a committee of representative democrats. An hour later he delivered an address before the Ladies' Literary club along the lines of the topic the club members at present are studying, "Problems of Government Before the People."

At the close the governor was escorted to a hall, where he addressed a large audience. He took for his theme the subject of "Business in Politics." He said the country was suffering from too much politics in business and too little business in politics. Political machines were the dominating force in legislation, in which the business of the country was vitally interested. He said what the country needed, and what the people are demanding, is emancipation from the control by machine politics, both in state, city and federal. The governor said until there was a readjustment of present conditions too much politics in business will dominate legislation in the interest of the few to the detriment of the welfare of the country.

TAFT ADDRESSES NEW HAVEN CHAMBER

New Haven, Conn., January 19.—Speaking before the New Haven chamber of commerce tonight, President Taft made a plea for the continuance of his economy and efficiency commission; declared that the administration has no desire to "persecute" business, but that it will continue to enforce the law against monopoly and unlawful combinations, and urged business men of the country to get together with him to insure prosperity.

Senator Bailey, of Texas, an earlier speaker, although he called himself an optimist, had sounded a warning against the increasing danger of socialism. To this warning the president took exception.

"I don't think," said the president, "that we are as near that which he fears and which I should fear if I thought we were near it—socialism. I have abiding faith in the American people. I have abiding faith after a time—for they will come back and discriminate between what is good cloth and what is fustian. What we need is prosperity. A lack of prosperity does not make the rich uncomfortable; it is lack of prosperity that makes the poor uncomfortable. What I hope is that we'll all get together in good team work to bring about prosperity."

The president spoke on the relations of the government to business. He explained the change that has come in the attitude of the railroads to legislation affecting them now on the statute books and which they opposed vigorously a few years ago. The recent decisions of the supreme court in two "geat cases," he said, had paved the way for business to live within the anti-trust law.

"It has been enforced," said the president, "and it will continue to be enforced quietly, I hope, and with as little disturbance as possible."

RAILROAD GOSSIP

W. E. Hunt, general agent in Cincinnati of the Great Northern railroad, is spending several days in Atlanta. His trip, although largely a business one, was made partially for the benefit of his wide circle of friends throughout Atlanta and Georgia. He will return to Cincinnati tomorrow morning.

The local railroad offices recently received circulars from the Macon, Dublin and Savannah Railroad Company announcing the appointment of J. D. Bowen as commercial agent at Tampa, Fla. He succeeds E. J. Dozier, who recently resigned. Both Mr. Bowen and Mr. Dozier are well known in Atlanta, having once been connected in this city.

The recent discussion in Reno, Ga., as to whether or not the depot there of the Havana and Pelham railroad should be moved closer to the town, or the town should be moved closer to the depot, which has aroused much interest in Atlanta circles, has been satisfactorily arranged. The depot must be moved to Reno. Reno stood its ground, and refused to budge. When the station was built, Reno was its next door neighbor, but since that time, Reno moved into another neighborhood, and expected the depot to do the same. When it refused, the railroad commission was appealed to. As a result, the depot was ordered to follow Reno. The decision was rendered yesterday.

Henry Weinmeister, former chief clerk of the Atlanta Terminal station, Thursday was presented by a large number of employees of the Terminal yards with a handsome diamond ring as a token of their esteem. Thursday afternoon, Mr. Weinmeister left Atlanta for Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, where he goes to take the position as assistant to the general manager of the Brazilian railway.

C. R. Carlton, who has been appointed to succeed J. M. Harris as traveling passenger agent of the Louisville and Nashville railway, will arrive in Atlanta next Monday to take charge of the work. With him will come George W. Weedon, of Cincinnati, assistant general passenger agent of the road, who will introduce Mr. Carlton.

Mr. Harris was transfered to the district general passenger agency at Toledo.

Mr. Carlton was due to have arrived in Atlanta several days ago, but was delayed in Cincinnati at the annual staff meeting of the Louisville and Nashville officials, which has been in session at that city this week.

Mr. Carlton will have the southeastern territory, including North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia and Florida. His headquarters will be in Atlanta.

Plans are on foot among the railroad officials of Atlanta to hold a banquet in honor of Clifford D. Wayne, who recently resigned as assistant general passenger agent for the Seaboard Air Line railway.

Fred Geissler, who comes from Memphis to Atlanta to succeed Mr. Wayne, was at the Seaboard office on Peachtree street yesterday, where he will have practical charge until February 1, when he officially succeeds Mr. Wayne. He said that he was glad to get back to Atlanta once more, because "Atlanta has 'em all, from Winnipeg to Frisco, backed off the boards."

Atlanta is Mr. Geissler's home town, and he began his career here, starting as office boy, being promoted to assistant ticket agent in Atlanta, then to assistant traveling passenger agent of the eastern division, later being transfered to the same position in the western division. From the western division he comes back to Atlanta with another promotion.

The recent cold snap has started a great stream of immigration southward, and the industrial departments of the various offices were flooded with inquiries from all parts of the north and west yesterday. Most of the inquiries related to south Georgia. It is expected that the next excursion rates day will bring the largest pilgrimage southward of the season.

Through negotiations opened by the industrial department of the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic railway, the Grand Bay Land Company, of Grand Bay, Ala., has bought 11,000 acres of lan near Offerman, Ga., 40 miles from Brunswick.

According to statements at police headquarters, complaint was made by the family of a woman who is a victim of the drug, and who has been securing it despite their efforts to stop her. EARLY POKER CONVENTION ROUNDED UP BY GRAND JURY

Albany, Ga., January 19.—(Special.)—There is consternation—yea, there is a panic—out Blakely way among the poker fraternity. For while poker is an outlawed game, it is dear to the hearts of many prominent southwest Georgians—so dear indeed, that "poker conventions" are established institutions for the test of skill and nerve.

It seems that a short time ago a poker convention was held at Bryant Station, a small place in Early county. Poker players proud of their reputations were present from Blakely, Arlington, Bluffton, Kestler and various other points. The cards ran all one afternoon and through the night which followed. It was declared to be one of the most successful conventions ever held in that part of the state.

But recently the grand jury which was sitting in Early county got wind of the affair and an investigation was set on foot. The result was that 21 indictments were returned. Lawyers, merchants, physicians, cotton buyers and farmers, not to mention several well known court officials, were caught in the grand jury's drag net, and all will have to answer to the indictments.

Plans for the next convention, which was to have been held at an early date, have been called off. When it is finally held, the chances are that it will be in a more hospitable county than Early.

SHADOW OF GALLOWS FRIGHTENS NEGRO WOMAN INTO CONFESSION

Confined in the condemned cell, with the gallows only a few feet away, casting a shadow into which she read all manner of superstitious terrors, Annie Moncrief, a negro woman, some days ago "unloosened" to Uncle Jeff Robinson, one of the best-known deputy sheriffs, and told all she knew about Lucky Elliott and the murder of Sara Ferguson, who was found two weeks ago with her throat cut near the Bellwood bridge.

According to the testimony of the woman and of her 12-year-old daughter, Anna Bell, Lucky was at their house with the woman on the night of the murder. The little girl borrowed his knife for some reason during the evening. About 12 o'clock Lucky and the woman left the house together.

Next morning Sara Ferguson's murdered body was discovered in a ditch near the railroad, where it had been thrown, and by the side of the corpse was a bloody knife, which has been identified by the girl as the one she borrowed from Lucky. She also tells of his return to their house, frightened and nervous, and how she had heard a woman scream in the night.

Friday afternoon an indictment was secured against Lucky, and Madison Bell was appointed to defend him. The trial is set for next Wednesday, and the county police say that they will secure the first conviction in any of the "Jack-the-Ripper" murders which have occurred so frequently during the past year. The Ferfuson woman is the fourteenth victim of such a crime.

LEE'S BIRTHDAY OBSERVED IN CITY

Interesting and appropriate exercises were held yesterday in the hall of the house of representatives under the auspices of Atlanta Camp No. 159, U. C. V., and the Atlanta Chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy, in honor of the birthday of General Robert E. Lee.

The hall was well filled with veterans, ladies and visitors. Captain W. S. Thomson, commander of Atlanta Camp, presided and presented Dr. James P. Smith, the last surviving staff officer under Stonewall Jackson, who made the opening prayer.

The audience enjoyed an original poem on General Lee by Major O. D. Gorman, a well-known Georgia newspaper man, after which Mrs. A. McD. Wilson, president of the Atlanta Chapter, U. D. C., made a brief address to the visitors, to which they listened with intense interest. Then followed the distribution of the crosses of honor by Miss Sarah Evans, daughter of the late General Clement A. Evans, to the following veterans and sons of veterans:

B. M. Worley, William S. Thomson, R. W. Tidwell, W. I. Tinsley, B. F. Melson, A. C. Bell, Tilman Heartley, J. W. Jenkins, B. S. Jones, C. Jordan, L. Page, S. T. Reeves, T. G. Ryan, Robert D. Rogers, William F. Williams, S. M. Slaton, Daniel J. Leahy, deceased, awarded to Wade H. Leahy, his son; H. J. Little, S. H. Martin, J. A. Reid, John A. Stephens, deceased, awarded to his son, Robert G. Stephens; W. P. Wallis, J. E. H. Ware and J. H. Walliford.

Captain Thomson then presented to the audience Rev. Dr. Dunbar Ogden, pastor of the Cenfral Presbyterian church and the son of a brave veteran, who delivered the address of the occasion. Dr. Ogden spoke upon "The Soul of Lee," and his address was considered one of the finest ever heard here upon similar occasion. Many veterans who were present expressed desire to secure copies of it, for, as one of them remarked, "There is in it a message which all present and future generations would do well to profit by."

Music for the day was furnished by Wurm's orchestra and several of the veterans' songs were sung, all joining in.

Observed in Americus.

Americus, Ga., January 19.—(Special.)—General Lees birthday anniversary was generally and appropriately observed in Americus. Services at West Point.

West Point, Ga., January 19.—(Special.)—The Robert E. Lee exercises were held in the auditorium here yesterday. A special invitation was extended to the United Daughters of the Confederacy and to all citizens of the Twin Cities to be present and quite a large and representative crowd were there to encourage the patriotic boys and girls who took part in the interesting program.

Exercises in Thomasville.

Thomasville, Ga., January 19.—(Special.)—From all parts of the county there was a gathering of Confederate veterans here today to participate in the celebration of General Lee's birthday and enjoy the program arranged for the occasion by the John B. Gordon chapter, Daughter of the Confederacy. Just before 11 a. m., the hour set for holding the exercises, the John Triplett chapter, Children of the Confederacy, Veterans, Sons of Veterans and Daughters of the Confederacy were formed in line in the yard of the courthouse by Judge C. P. Hansell, master of ceremonies, and marched upstairs to the court room, where the exercises were held.

At Georgia University.

Athens, Ga., January 19.—(Special.)—The University of Georgia celebrated the anniversary of the birth of General Robert E. Lee yesterday with appropriate exercises. The student body and a number of outside friends were present at the chapel assemblage and the set program of addresses was enlivened by thenumbers of the Glee tet of "Georgia." Rev. M. L. Troutt-tet of "Georgia." Rev. M. L. Troutman presided over the meeting, and Chancellor Barrow made one of his characteristic talks. A trio of correlated speeches from students completed the excellent hour's program. J. E. Deadwyler, of Atlanta, spoke on "The Nation s Ideals." He was followed by T. J. Woofterm, Jr., in "The Ideals of the Old South." W. A. Mann followed as a fitting conclusion, with the subject: "The Product of These Ideals—Robert E. Lee."

Services at Zebulon.

Zebulon, Ga., January 19.—(Special.) Zebulon held appropriate exercises today in honor of the birthday of General Robert E. Lee, at the chapel of the Griffin district institute. There being no U. D. C. chapter here, the school rendered a delightful program arranged for the occasion.

LONDON MILL STRIKE SETTLED

Manchester, England, January 19.—The dispute in the cotton trade, which culminated in a lock-out affecting about 300,000 men on December 27, has been settled. The question at issue between employers and workers was the employment of non-unionist labor. All the mills will be reopened on Monday.

The operatives by a two to one vote agreed to accept a truce for a year. This is recorded as a victory for the employers. The rank and file of the operatives are satisfied with the settlement, but the union leaders are displeased with it, as their difficulties in persuading non-unionists to join the the unions will be increased.

AUGUSTA COAL RATE NOT DISCRIMITORY

Wahington, January 19.—It was held by the interstate commerce commission today in a case instituted by the Augusta, Ga., Chamber of Commerce, that the rate of $2.10 a ton on coal from the Coal Creek mines in Tennessee to Augusta via the Southern railway is not discriminatory against Augusta consumers.

LINES AMALGAMATE.

London Tubes and Railroads in a Merger.

London, January 19.—The long-talked-of amalgamation of the electric tubes and railroads of London with the London General Omnibus Company has been finally carried through. The properties owned by the companies concerned in the new amalgamation represent a value of $175,000,000.

The deal will be completed as soon as the shareholders in the various companies approve of the terms provisionally agreed upon by their respective directorates.

HEIKE AND GARBRACHT APPEAL THEIR CASES

Washington, January 19.—A final attempt to save Charles R. Heike and Ernst Garbracht, former officials of the American Sugar Refining Company, from going to prison for alleged sugar weighing frauds at New York, was inaugurated today by an appeal to the federal supreme court. The court is asked to review the conviction. Heike was sentenced to eight months and Gerbracht to two years. Each was fined $5,000.

PERSIANS WOULD BAR AMERICANS

Teheran, January 19.—A statement given out here by the Persian government denies that it has threatened to punish the American customs officials. A copy of a letter shown by M. Mornard, the treasurer-general, to Mr. Cairns on the subject is appended. This alleged copy, however, bears a different signature from the original and differs in other respects.

It is generally believed here that the government is trying to induce the Americans to leave the country.

TAFT PARDONS OSCAR KRUEGER

Washington, January 19.—A miscarriage of justice caused President Taft today to grant a full and unconditional pardon to Oscar Krueger, of New York, who has served nearly one year of an eighteen months' sentence in the Atlanta penitentiary for a crime he did not commit.

Expert handwriting testimony, it was said, was responsible for his conviction on a charge of mailing an obscene letter. An exhaustive investigation by the department of justice established Krueger's complete innocence.

Redmond Better.

Dublin, January 19.—John Redmond, the nationalist leader in the house of commons, was able to leave his bedroom today. He says he is determined to attend the home rule meeting at Belfast, February 8, even if he has to be carried there.

ATLANTA MUSICIAN OFFERS AS RUNNING MATE FOR JEFF

James E. Cothran, as Jeff, and Fred Lilly, Mutt No. 2.

Here is another aspirant for The Constitution's prize of $10 for the most striking looking A. Mutt. In private life he is Fred Lilly, the well-known Atlanta musician, who for so many years presided over the kettle drum at the Grand opera house.

Mr. Lilly had on no make-up when the accompanying picture was taken. Notice the resemblance about the eyes.

All day Friday aspiring Mutts thronged The Constitution office. Some of them looked like the real thing, while others were about as far from the eminent logician in appearance as little Jeff himself.

BIG LAND TRACT FOR NEW ORLEANS

New Orleans, La., January 19.—A gift to this city of 50,000 acres of land for charitable purposes has been made by Edward Wisner, known as the "father of reclamation by draining in Louisiana." The gift is to be announced at the Forum's mass meeting tonight. The only condition stipulated is that the city does not dispose of the land within 100 years. Mr. Wisner has made many liberal donations to public movements here, one of the most important being that to Tulane University.

The alluvial land included in today's gift is reclaimable and lies in the New Orleans delta of the Mississippi river. The revenues from the designated tracts are to be applied to the following purposes until taken in charge by the recipients:

10,000 acres for the use of Tulane University for such purposes as shall be designated in the act of donation; 10,000 acres for the establishment of a city canvalescent home for patients of the charity hospitals and other hospital purposes; 10,000 acres for the purpose of establishing an agricultural department for the city schools and other school purposes; 10,000 acres for embellishing the city of New Orleans, maintaining "the city beautiful;" 5,000 acres to be used for the maintenance of a civic center and free platform; 1,000 acres each for the establishment of a parish home for superannuated teachers of the public schools, a home for policemen and firemen, a home for newsboys, a home and farm for the Salvation Army, and a poor farm for the city's mendicants.

Mayor Martin Behrman has accepted the donation pending favorable action by the city council which, the mayor says, he would advocate.

TAFT A CANDIDATE FOR NOMINATION

Lincoln, Neb., January 19.—President William H. Taft's name was filed as a candidate for the republican nomination under the Nebraska presidential primary law today. The petition was presented by Franklin A. Shotwell, of Omaha. Shotwell formerly was secretary of the Nebraska Republican Progressive League.

Twelve Wives Ordered.

Seattle, Wash., January 19.—The largest matrimonial order ever received in the city came from Lansing, Mich., today addressed to Marriage License Clerk Claude F. Gade, calling for twelve brides for a like number of Michigan men ranging in years from 25 to 50 and ready to begin housekeeping on some of western Washington's logged-off lands as soon as exigencies permit.

"We want the land and we want the wives," ran the letter. "The land question we have already taken up." Gage has written the Michigan man that he will advise him later as to the condition of the matrimonial market.

AUSTRIAN MINISTER SLATED TO RETIRE

Vienna, Austria, January 19.—Reports regarding the early retirement of Count Alois Lexa von Aehrenthal, Austro-Hungarian foreign minister, are persistent. Rumor even names his sucessor, who is said to be Count Sze Csen von Temerin, Austro-Hungarian ambassador at Paris. This diplomat holds a very strong position with the clerical party which has been attacking Count Aehrenthal.

It is said that at the request of Count Aehrenthal the reichsrath has decided to meet in February this year instead of in March so as to enable the foreign minister to furnish details of his policy before he retires from office.

ACCIDENTS DELAY FAST MAIL TRAIN

Buffalo, N. Y., January 19.—A chapter of accidents delayed the New York Central fast mail, due here from New York at midnight, until nearly 4 o'clock this morning, and resulted in the serious injury of four persons. About twenty others were slightly cut and bruised. The seriously injured are:

Frank Shawdey, Perry, Ohio, mail clerk.

James A. Murphy, Barnard, N. Y., mail clerk.

H. C. House, 156 Fifth avenue, New York, passenger.

E. A. Alburn, 150 East 82d street, New York, passenger.

The first accident occurred near Crittenden, when the cross-bar of a coach dropped out and the car was thrown from the rails. The train was moving slowly at the time, or a serious wreck would have followed.

In the yards here, a second accident resulted in the serious injury of the two passengers. The train was backing in to the station, when the head coach unexpectedly took a siding and crashed into a string of cars. Passengers were hurled in all directions, and twenty of them were slightly hurt.

CHANCE OF IMMUNITY GIVEN FRANKLIN

Los Angeles, Cal., January 19.—Bert H. Franklin, the McNamara detective awaiting trial in the superior court on two charges of jury bribing, was today given what was said to have been his "last chance" for immunity, when he was called before the county grand jury. After being questioned, he said:

"Well, they didn't get much out of me," adding that he had been excused, and that the future proceedings of the body were no concern of his.

It was reported that Franklin was offered immunity from prosecution if he would confess who had supplied him with funds for the alleged corruption of jurors in the trial of James McNamara.

KU KLUX KLAN CHIEF PASSES TO BEYOND

Charlotte, N. C., January 19.—E. R. Sepaugh, prominent in reconstruction days as a leader in the notorious Ku-klux Klan, died today at his home in Grover, S. C., aged 65. Sepaugh led a division of the clan that lynched Tom Rountree, a negro agitator, a year after the war, and suffered imprisonment in Yorkville jail four years rather than betray the names of his comrades who formed the lynching party. He was finally released without trial. Sepaugh carried a bullet from the negros pistol to his grave.

ERECT BRIGADE POST

In Honolulu for Permanent Occupancy.

Denver, Colo., January 19.—W. Frank Noof, construction engineer of the United States army post at Fort Logan, today received a telegram from the quartermaster general in Washington ordering him to sail for Honolulu from San Francisco February 5, and to begin at once the construction of a complete brigade post for permanent occupancy. The order is believed to relate to the recent discovery by the United States government that 35,000 former Japanese soldiers are in Hawaii.

A METROPOLIS WITHOUT AN AUDITOR.

The series of political and quasi-political developments whereby the position of municipal auditor is to be abolished after March 1 should be a matter for regret, not only on part of the councilmen by whose votes this step backward is sanctioned, but as well the people of Atlanta in general, the tax-payers in particular.

It is greatly to be feared that Auditor Carl E. Hurst was among those marked for official slaughter for the offfense of exercising his right as a citizen by declaring in favor of a new charter. The connection between cause and effect, and the collateral evidence, pile up testimony too significant to be ignored.

On the ground of personal fitness, no complaint has been brought against the auditor. And certainly the skill and fidelity with which he has discharged his duties since the creation of the office have been worth the salary paid him multiplied by an indefinite numeral. It is unfair, unscientific, unbusiness-like to saddle upon the office of the city comptroller the auditing functions that properly pertain to, and that can be effectually met only by, an expert accountant giving all his time to the work.

Failing to maintain an auditor, Atlanta is ranging herself beside fifth or sixth rate American municipalities. It is distinctly discouraging to see council beginning the New Year by making a change that cannot accurately be described as other than reactionary, and, at that, driven almost wholly by motives rising out of partisan feudism. We had hoped the slate had been wiped clean, and that all factions were prepared to unite for the benefit of the whole city. Despite a pessimistic prospect, we trust council will rescind its action and retain the services of a needed and capable official by declining to accept the resignation of Auditor Hurst.

THE INDEFENSIBLE SHERWOOD BILL.

Recent dispatches from Washington indicate that President Taft is considerably worried over the Sherwood service pension bill, which, it is estimated, will add $75,000,000 to the pension budget, and that he is likely to veto it if it reaches him.

He will discharge his plain duty, and earn the gratitude of the country, irrespective of party, should he pursue this course. The measure, which passed the house with a whoop by the combined votes of democrats and republicans, is now hung up in the senate. Under specious wording, it is a grab, a "pork barrel" project, a political raid on the treasury without a single merit or pretense to respectability.

The terms of the bill, as detailed in The Constitution recently, simply open the sluices of the treasury to men who may have served but a few days during the civil war, and who may never have smelt smoke. The measure puts a premium upon deserters, bounty-jumpers, camp-followers and, also, upon perjury. It is an insult to every member of the Grand Army of the Republic, every surviving union soldier, who saw actual service, who was maimed or crippled, and whose motives were of a patriotic nature. It likewise puts an affront on the widows and families of hundreds of thousands of brave men, now dead, by extending government pap in unlimited quantities to brigades of individuals who took good care never to endanger their own hides.

The so-called "old soldier" vote holds balance of power in enough congressional districts to explain the action of the house, of course. But this very class of Americans should be among the first to denounce a scheme that makes a mockery of the motives with which they answered the call to arms in the sixties. The Constitution heartily approves adequate pensions to bona fide veterans and their widows. But the pending measure is a fence-building graft in thin masquerade, and should be smashed. We fail to see how the democrats who voted for it can gain the approval of their own consciences. If the senate does not, as it should, either kill or radically amend the bill, the president will exhibit true statesmanship by vetoing it.

THE ELEPHANT'S NEW PASSENGER.

The once lordly and arrogant, but now battered and sad-eyed elephant, emblem of the republican party, has another presidential passenger in the person of Senator Albert J. Cummins, of Iowa. Or, rather, it would be more accurate to state that the already overloaded and bewildered beast is shortly to have another aspirant thrust upon his sagging back, for the senator's friends have not yet formally launched his boom, though they display every symptom of "pernicious political activity."

It is explained, in a somewhat naive press dispatch from Washington, that Senator Cummins is moved by a coy reluctance to obstruct the right-of-way assumedly enjoyed by his fellow insurgent senator, "Battle Bob" La Follette, of Wisconsin. But the Iowa statesman's friends have been busy, and have reason to believe that, like the wavering sinner, he is "almost persuaded."

Well, what if he is? Absolutely nothing, except that the already merry-go-round and dizzy republican situation will become yet more entangled. There is Mr. Taft, defiantly averring that "death only" can cheat him of the nomination. The Colonel feeds new fodder to the Ananias Club daily, but has yet to state, unequivocally, that he will not accept the nomination, if it is tendered him under proper and pressing circumstances. La Follette swings on desperately to the elephant's tail, despite the plaint of Mr. Taft and the frown of the Colonel, while some candidates for bedlam have even developed the extreme symptom of mentioning Philander Knox, and the energetic Hitchcock, in presidential tones.

Just what part in the game Senator Cummins will take, must be a mystery to the political astrologers, until he displays a little more than his present candor. There was a time when the senator was a pretty strong man, as strong men go in our day. But his vacillation on Canadian reciprocity, and his somewhat tortuous record on other tariff proposals, illy chime with presidential mention in a year when tariff reform and consistency are assumed to be the keynotes of the approaching campaigns.

EFFICIENCY, YES---PARSIMONY, NO!

In the language of the great national indoor game, President Taft has simply "raised the ante," both of the democrats and the insurgent members of his own party, by sweeping recommendations in the direction of governmental economy and efficiency, as embodied in his recent special message to congress. The president states, with truth, that the country is as much interested in knowing how its billion of annual revenue is spent as the manner in which it is collected. His proposals to lop off many political sinecures, and to broaden the civil service list to cover many positions now subject to executive appointment, are aimed in the right direction. They are necessarily weakened, of course, by the fact that they are put forward in a presidential election year and, consequently, inevitably associated by the man of average astuteness with the manufacture of partisan capital.

But the most important thing to be said regarding the president's program, admirable on paper, is that due and imperative precautions must be taken to the end that efficiency does not degenerate into its antithesis—parsimony, which is only another name for demoralization. The postoffice department is, for instance, a glaring illustration of the imminence of this danger. In the name of "efficiency," Hitchcockism has pruned and pared, curtailed and carved until the postal facilities of the country, at a time when they should register top-reading, are instead making new records daily in deterioration. The protest of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce against the disreputably inadequate railway mail service accorded the south, a protest echoed by every important commercial civic body in this section, is a case in point. But the penalty of "efficiency," as it is interpreted by the postmaster general, is nation-wide. The smallest postoffice, the most straggling rural free delivery route, every man, woman and child in the country, not to mention big and little business, are paying the price at which the postmaster general is purchasing a cheap reputation.

Assuredly, the nation wants and demands efficiency in its administration, but the fable of the farmer whose horse died upon the very day the animal had learned how to subsist upon a diet of wind and water is the answer to the Hitchcock brand of "efficiency."

HELD FOR STEALING UNCLE SAM'S ENGINE

Mobile, Ala., January 19.—George G. Hines, a young white man, was placed on trial in the United States court here today on an indictment charging him with stealing a gasoline engine from the reservation at Fort Morgan. Hines was engaged as a plumber at the reservation, and the owner of a boat operating to that point reported to the commandant that the gasoline engine had been stolen.

Artillerymen Harding and Sullivan, who were implicated in the steal, and who were courtmartialed and sent to Fort Leavenworth, Kan., for a period of four years, were brought here as witnesses against the defendant. The latter were garbed in their prison attire, and handcuffed when brought to the city, and during the hearing are being closely guarded by United States officers.

SAYS HE HAS NOT ASKED FEDERAL INTERVENTION

Jackson, Miss., January 19.—Notwithstanding reports to the contrary, United States Marshal Fred W. Collins today said he had not expressed his intention of recommending federal intervention in the Illinois Central railroad situation at McComb City, Miss. He said it was his belief that Governor Brower was capable of handling the matter, but it would be to the best interests of all if there be no modification in the martial law now in force there.

Governor Brewer expects, within a few days, to visit McComb City and make a personal investigation of the conditions there, he said. In the meantime the governor gave notice that he would use stringent measures to maintain the law, and said no troops would be withdrawn from McComb City until he was assured that the civil authorities were able to protect life and property.

Ludowici Election.

Ludowici, Ga., January 19.—(Special.)—The municipal election passed off today very quietly, although all the registered vote was cast. Two tickets were in the field. The vote resulted as follows: J. Mattox, mayor; aldermen, L. L. Beach, W. L. Black, Stacey Branch, J. B. Simpson and J. T. Gill. Ludowici has a very promising future before it, and it is conceded that it will even forge to the front faster now than at any time in the past.

Gossip at the Capitol

The state printing commission will probably meet some time next week for the purpose of taking cognizance of the complaint entered by Luther H. Still, president of the Atlanta Typographical Union, to the effect that the house and senate journals for 1911 were not printed in conformity with law. The bills for these journals have already been paid, but Governor Slaton called the commission's attention to the fact that investigation should be made, as the public printer can be held liable, if he has not conformed to the law. The printing commission is composed of Secretary of State Philip Cook, Comptroller General W. A. Wright, and State Treasurer W. J. Speer. None of these are practical printers and for that reason they have written the governor asking him to permit them to employ a typographical expert to advise them with regard to the methods used by the state printer.

State Depositories.

The Bank of Thomasville, located at Thomasville, was reappointed, and the Fairburn Banking Company, of Fairburn, was appointed by Governor Slaton yesterday as state depositories, both for a period of four years.

Hickey Is Grateful.

Governor Slaton yesterday received a letter from James E. Hickey, to whom he recently granted a pardon while the latter was working on the road gang in Clarke county, in which Hickey expressed sincere thanks for his release from the penitentiary. The letter was written with much feeling, and indicatd Hickey's determination to make a good Georgia citizen. He was arrested in Lowndes county on suspicion of having engaged in picking pockets, but there is much reason to believe that he was not guilty of the offense charged.

Aides on Staff.

General Clifford L. Anderson, commanding the Georgia National Guard, yesterday nominated as aides on his staff, with the rank of lieutenant; H. H. Kicklighter and S. Y. Tupper, Jr., both cavalry officers, and who will now be transferred to General Anderson's staff. General Anderson is entitled to two aides, and these two officers will be commissioned as such.

Reception to Governor.

Governor John M. Slaton will be the guest of the University club of Atlanta at a reception to be given at the club house on Peachtree street Monday evening, January 22, in his honor.

Governor Slaton has taken an active interest in the club and its purposes since its origin in the summer of 1910, and he has had considerable part in the splendid growth which it has shown in the brief period of its existence. Within that short period the club has entertained many noted men, among them President Taft, Governor Woodrow Wilson, of New Jersey; Governor Judson Harmon, of Ohio, and Editor Henry Watterson, of the Louisville Courier-Journal. Seven hundred invitations have been issued for the reception.

Reception to Legislature.

Governor and Mrs. John M. Slaton will tender a reception to the members of the legislature at their attractive home on Peachtree street on Wednesday evening, January 24. This will be the first day of the special session of the general assembly, called to inaugurate Governor Joseph M. Brown. The reception will be entirely informal, and it is expected the entire membership of the two houses will attend.

Board of Lady Visitors.

The following appointments on the board of lady visitors to the Georgia Normal and Industrial college at Milledgeville have been announced by Governor Slaton: Mrs. J. Lindsay Johnson, of Rome; Mrs. Sam D. Jones, of Atlanta; Mrs. J. E. Hays, of Montezuma; Miss Bessie Butler, of Madison; and Mrs. J. Hunter Johnson, of Jeffersonville. The term is for three years and all are reappointments, except Mrs. J. Lindsay Johnson, who is a new member of the board, succeeding Mrs. Beulah Moseley, of Rome.

Geology of Coastal Plain.

The state geological department announces the publication of a report entitled the "Geology of the Coastal Plain of Georgia." This work has been prepared under a co-operative agreement between the Georgia geological survey and the United States geological survey.

The work of collecting information and writing the reports has been done by Otto Veatch, assistant state geologist of Georgia, and L. W. Stephenson, of the United States geological survey, under the general supervision of T. Wayland Vaughan, of the United States geological survey.

The coastal plain is that part of Georgia lying south of Augusta, Milledgeville, Macon and Columbus, and is one of the three major geological divisions of the state—the second being the piedmont and mountain section, and the third being the limestone and shale region, embracing the ten northwest counties of the state. Comparatively little has heretofore been known concerning the nature and arrangement of the rocks which underlie south Georgia, and one of the objects of this work was to make a classification of the rock formations; to give a description of their lithologic character, whether composed of limestone, marl, sand, clay or other rock; and to make a map showing their geographic distribution.

Live Stock Farming Lectures.

The state agricultural department, through the state veterinarian, Dr. Peter F. Bahnson, and Dr. Highbert, representing the federal bureau of animal industry, will make a tour of the eleven district agricultural colleges, delivering special lectures to the students on "Progressive Live Stock Farming."

This campaign, which begins next Tuesday, January 23, at Carrollton, Ga., bids fair to be a most interesting and important tour of agricultural work.

The superintendent and student body of the agricultural colleges, as well as the citizens generally, are deeply interested in these meetings, and thy expect good crowds daily.

The second meeting will be held at Powder Springs, Ga., on Wednesday, January 24. The dates of the other meetings will be given out later.

SAYS HUBBY THREATENED TO BURN DOWN HOUSE

Alleging that her husband has threatened to burn down the home for which she worked and paid, and that he has threatened and abused her in other ways, Mrs. Ella Trout has filed suit for alimony and injunction against C. E. Trout.

In addition to asking for suitable alimony for herself and her five children, as well as the custody of the children, Mrs. Trout has petitioned the court for an order restraining her husband from bothering her in any way. She does not want him to write to her, or speak to her, or telephone her, or approach her in any way. She wants to be left entirely alone, she declares to the court.

HARVEY-WILSON EPISODE AS SEEN BY STATE PRESS

"Harper's Version of Its Break With Wilson."

(From The Macon News.)

We do not approve of the sentiment of gratitude between the public servants and their supporters, in the sense of compensating such support with undue subservience or favors to be extended the latter at the expense of the public purse or welfare. It is just such trading, understanding and dickering that is the curse of the country now, and the man who is elevated to the presidency by the democratic party in this great crisis must be singularly free of such understandings and obligations if he is not to fail miserably in the herculean task of cleaning the nation's Augean stables he will be called upon to perform. But a manifestation of positive ingratitude by the inconsiderate rebuff of the well-meaning efforts of a friendly advocate is another and different sort of proposition. There are some things that a candidate owes to himself that are above even his public fortunes and obligations, and among these is the duty never to transgress the bounds of human charity and kindness.

"The Watterson-Harvey-Wilson Controversy."

(From The Macon Telegraph.)

The chief feature of the present controversy is that the fight will now take on a national phase heretofore it was confined to New Jersey, where the governor and his opponents kept it within state lines and the organization. Now the entering wedge of dissension will be driven further until the result may be serious, not only in the convention, but in the general election in the fall.

Mr. Morgan may have some interests in the publishing house of Harper Bros., a purely business investment, but that he controls the policy of that paper is absurd to those who know its history.

Governor Wilson may explain the trouble satisfactorily when he is prepared, but heal the breach he can never. "Pitiless publicity," as he himself called it and advocated some time ago, has the matter in charge, and there can be no "recalling" of the regrettable and strong words of Mr. Watterson as published in our columns yesterday.

"Clearly a Mistake."

(From The Savannah Press.)

We cannot but regret that Governor Woodrow Wilson should have seen fit to call off the support of Colonel George Harvey, of Harper's Weekly.

The position of The Press on this matter is well known. It was repeated only yesterday afternoon. Colonel Harvey has been the powerful and persistent friend of the president of Princeton and was the first man, so far as we know, to suggest his name for president of the United States. He backed him strongly for the office of governor of New Jersey and his support of the claims of Governor Wilson for president has been consistent, intelligent and influential.

It may be true that Colonel George Harvey is the editor of some publications controlled by Pierpont Morgan; we do not know. In this instance financial control does not seem to carry with it editorial dictation. For while The New York Sun, also said to be one of Mr. Morgan's properties, has made a vicious and untiring attack upon Woodrow Wilson, Harper's Weekly has been his firm and unflinching friend. In our opinion the support of a man like George Harvey would be an element of strength at any time. Although president of Harper's reorganized properties, he is the "captain of his soul." For the last three years he has been the leader in the democratic revival. Indeed at a time just after President Taft's inauguration when the future seemed darkest for democracy, George Harvey in a series of admirable editorials pointed the way to the democratic victory. He laid out the plan of campaign, outlined the political policy, that of tariff reform, advised the movement all along the line, even rebuking half-hearted democratic editors of the south for having cold feet. We have in mind a strikingly effective editorial which was reproduced in The Press and which really, in our opinion, blazed the way for the democratic triumph last year when the Taft administration had been rebuked and the way was opened for the democratic president. Some day we will reproduce this editorial and show how prominent and how prophetic George Harvey has been in the democratic renaissance. In our opinion, he has been invaluable.

So that Colonel Harvey has named the issue, has emphasized the opportunity and even selected the man. He has performed a wonderful service. We do not think he should have been called down. We can't imagine where Harper's Weekly's support could have injured Woodrow Wilson, unless in the depths of the wild west or in some benighted corner where men don't read or at least don't reason and don't comprehend. Woodrow Wilson is a strong man with the courage of his convictions. Once decided upon a policy or a plan of action he does not turn back. Like Grover Cleveland, he puts his faith in measures, not in men. There is something heroic and uncompromising about the man; but in this instance we cannot but regret that he has silenced the pen of a strong and sincere supporter, of whom he could say with truth:

"Thou wert my guide, philosopher and friend."

"The Sin of Peter, Unrepented and Unatoned."

(From The Augusta Chronicle.)

Of course, it may make no difference at all to some people that a man has proven himself a downright ingrate and weakling—they may go on admiring him, or pretending to admire him, just the same—but, fortunately, the world is not made up entirely of people like this.

But it does matter with a very large element of people; if for no other reason, because it gives them a line on the man himself. It is a measure by which they may test his sincerity, his strength of character, his real fiber. For if a man isn't right fundamentally, if he doesn't measure up in the personal relations of life, it isn't to be expected that he will prove a bit better and truer in politics or public life.

It was with these thoughts in mind—sentiment that must appeal at once to every man whose opinion is worth having—that we were forced to contemplate the outrageous treatment—if the published reports be true—of Colonel George Harvey, editor of Harper's Weekly, by his political protege, and long-time "friend," Woodrow Wilson. We do not mind in the least confessing that we were shocked at the announcement that Governor Wilson had deliberately slapped Colonel Harvey in the face, figuratively speaking.

It is even said that it was at Colonel Harvey's residence in New Jersey that Woodrow Wilson, then president of Princeton, was induced to declare himself as a candidate for governor, at a gathering of influential citizens brought together by Colonel Harvey's persuasion. Throughout the campaign Harper's led the fight for its candidate.

Hardly had Wilson been inaugurated governor before Harvey launched, nourished and kept galvanized his boom as a presidential candidate.

But Colonel Harvey's ardent and unselfish advocacy of Woodrow Wilson goes further back than that. Colonel J. C. Hemphill, editor of The Charlotte Observer, makes some reference to it in the following:

"When Wilson got the idea that Harvey's support prejudiced him with the western populistis element that he was courting in every possible way—he very possibly had distinct intimations from this element on the subject, which involves the Bryan veto power—he kicked from under him the ladder whereby he had climbed so high. He coldly repudiated Harvey to his face and afterwards denied having done so: that is, unless he remembers better than Henry Watterson, as well as Harvey, just what occurred. He told him that his support had become a handicap and must cease. Such playing as this always involves the danger of an overplayed game. Not only is ingratitude a viciously bad and unattractive quality, but it makes for weakness with politicians everywhere."

Columns more might be written along the same line, and, still, the half would not have been told of how Colonel Harvey worked night and day, year in and year out, to make a national figure of his friend and neighbor, Woodrow Wilson. Rarely, if ever, has such devotion been known in American public life.

There may be some men who feel that a man who could thus deliberately turn his back on his best friend is still big enough and brave enough to be president of these United States—who having set up for themselves a shrine, will continue to worship at it, rather than admit they could ever be wrong—but we can readily imagine that such men might as easily contend that the "exigencies of the case" fully justified Peter in denying Christ.

As for ourselves, that particular act has always seemed to place a blot on Peter's character—not, however, entirely of his own making; because he seemed foreordained to it—that no amount of repentance and subsequent loyalty has ever wholly wiped away.

HEIRESS WAS STARVED TO SECURE HER ESTATE

Seattle, Wash., January 19.—How Miss Claire Williamson, a wealthy English woman starved to death under the immediate care of Mrs. Linda Burfield Hazzard, a sanitarium keeper, who, it is alleged, wanted her money, and how Dorothea Williamson, sister of the dead woman, was rescued a delirious living skeleton by her childhood nurse, was recounted here today by Prosecutor Frank H. Kelly to a jury trying Mrs. Hazzard on a charge of murder.

In April, according to the prosecution, the sisters, who had put themselves in Mrs. Hazzard's care last February, were taken to Olala, where it is asserted, Mrs. Hazzard induced Claire to add a codicil to her will endowing the Hazzard sanitarium with $125 annually and obtained an order on banks holding funds belonging to the Williamson sisters.

Claire died May 19, literally reduced to skin and bones. No notification was sent to relatives, but a family nurse in Australia, hearing of Claire's death, came to Olala and found Dorothea a living specter. Mrs. Hazzard, asserting that the girl was insane, already had applied to be appointed guardian to Dorothea and administrator of Claire's estate.

The British consular service has taken an active interest in the trial.

$1,000,000 MORTGAGE IS FILED TO SECURE BONDS

One of the largest mortgages ever filed with the clerk of the Fulton superior court was that of the Fulton Bag and Cotton Mill to the Central Bank and Trust Corporation, which was placed on record yesterday. The mortgage is for $1,000,000, and is to secure a million-dollar bond issue by the company.

Of such importance is it, that ordinary typewriting was not used at all, and the lengthy document has been printed in pamphlet form. The bond issue will consist of 1,000 bonds, valued at $1,000 each.

According to the mortgage, the bond issue is for the improvement of the plant.

CHARLEY CURRIER IS INDICTED FOR MURDER

An indictment for murder was returned yesterday by the grand jury against Charley Currier, a negro, who is accused of having murdered a negro woman on the Marietta road just outside the city limits.

The crime was of the "Jack-the-Ripper" class, and the trial may throw some light upon the series of similar crimes which have occurred.

Several other true bills were returned by the jury.

Hartford, Conn., January 19.—During the first fifteen days of January the fire insurance companies of the country became liable for $15,000,000 in losses according to statistics prepared by a Hartford company. In the opinion of local underwriters there had never before been such a severe and steady drain on their resources for one month as the statistics for January will show.

Vacant House Trick.—Using the vacant house trick, a thief last night secured $10 in about as many minutes from Jacobs Pharmacy, Mitchell street and Madison avenue, and made an easy getaway before the delivery boy knew what had happened. Call Officers Hood and Gorman were called to the scene and tracked the thief for some distance through the back yard. The thief about 8 oclock sent in a hurry order to the drug store for two bottles of malted milk, to be sent to 51 West Fair street, with change for $10. A man met the delivery boy at the door, took milk and change, went back into the house and disappeared.

ROOSEVELT AT LAST YIELDS TO THE AUTO

New York, January 19.—Theodore Roosevelt, once colonel of rough riders, has at length yielded to the tendency of the times and now sits behind the steering wheel of his automobile. Residents of Oyster Bay on several occasions recently have seen Colonel Roosevelt driving through the town with his hand on the wheel, steering the car as though he were thoroughly familiar with the mysteries of levers and pedals which must be manipulated.

The sight was a surprising one, because Colonel Roosevelt's love of the horse and aversion to automobiles were well known. When he was at Oyster Bay during the summer, while he was president, he forbade automobilists to enter his grounds in their machines. It was only a few months ago, in fact, that he removed a sign which long stood at the entrance to the grounds, announcing that automobiles must keep away.

In spite of Colonel Roosevelt's preference for the horse, he found an automobile indispensable when he began to make regular trips between Oyster Bay and his editorial offices in New York. If he went by train he was besieged by persons who wanted to talk with him. He covers the thirty-three miles to the city by automobile in about the same time as is required by train and uses that method of conveyance except in the coldest and most stormy weather.

Gradually he picked up information about the mechanism of the car, but it was only recently that he began to drive it. The colonel still prefers the horse, however, and when he is at home takes daily horseback rides.

As a concession to the automobile, Colonel Roosevelt recently built a broad macadam road from his home on the crown of Sagamore Hill to the public highway below. For generations the Roosevelt family had used a winding, narrow dirt road.

Steamer Sinks.

Swansea, Wales, January 19.—An unidentified steamer was sunk, with all hands, near here during last night, owing to a collision with the Cunard liner Veria from Liverpool. The Veria, which has arrived here with damaged bows, cruised for several hours near where the collision occurred, but was unable to find any trace of survivors or of wreckage. The lost vessel was a small one, carrying a crew of about a dozen men.

THEATER NIGHT OF AUTO SHOW

All the Visiting Theater Folk Will Be Invited to Attend.

"Theatrical Day" at the Atlanta Automobile Show will be the second feature of its kind in the brief history of such exhibits.

It was tried at the recent New York show and proved to be a tremendous success.

The whole Rialto responded to the New York management's invitation. Beauty and the bearded ones were there in big numbers soon after the doors opened. Stars were as numerous as on a clear winter night. The theatrical world was there, from the heavy tragedian to the man of the chorus, from the dignified leading woman to the dainty soubrette.

And with them came other thousands, attracted by the novelty of the occasion.

Its uniqueness has been seized upon by the management of the Atlanta show for the enhancement of the week's program here, February 10 to 17. "Theatrical Day" is to be one of the eight special occasions which will mark the progress of the show.

On Friday, February 16, Atlanta's playhouses will be filled with theatrical folk. Mizzie Hajos will be at the Atlanta theater.

There will be a big show at the Grand. The Lyric will have a fine company on the boards, that week, and there will be a great vaudeville bill at the Forsyth. If there be any other actor folk in town at the time, they will be included in the special invitation as a matter of course. All will be bidden to come and revel at the automobile show in the auditorium.

Plenty of delightful entertainment will be the fortune of those who happen in upon the automobile show on that day.

The executive committee of the Atlanta show has received numerous suggestions for the enrichment of "Theatrical Day."

FIVE PARTICIPATED IN DYNAMITE PLOT

Indianapolis, Ind., January 19.—That at least five men other than those who already have been indicted or convicted in the dynamite conspiracy participated in a plot to blow up an iron works at Akron, Ohio, on July 4, 1910, was part of the testimony which it is believed was presented to the federal grand jury today.

The names of three of the alleged participants were given by Ortie McManigal. Two days before the explosion, according to McManigal, he left Indianapolis with one of the men who had received instructions from J. J. McNamara, in the office of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, and went to Rochester, Pa., where they got 12 quarts of nitro-glycerin, which they packed in a suit case. Fifty-eight quarts of the explosive, he said, were left at Rochester for future use. At Cleveland, the next day, they met two other men and discussed the Akron job, he said.

"The men who had accompanied me from Indianapolis wanted me to do the job," said McManigal, "but one of the Cleveland men said the job had been promised to a couple of other fellows and they wanted them to have it. They had no fuse, so I went to Chicago and sent them fuse by special delivery."

The Indianapolis man, McManigal said, was the one who remained with him until he began to do dynamiting with J. B. McNamara.

The grand jury adjourned today until Monday.

MINISTER PROTESTS AGAINST BILL

Washington, January 19.—Fear that a bill to prohibit the interstate transportation of liquors would prevent the use of wine in church communions led the Rev. George Schubert, of Wilkesbarre, Pa., a Lutheran minister, to protest before the house judiciary committee today. The committee informed him that the measure would have no such effect, and Mr. Schubert departed, much relieved.

RAWLINS SPENDS NIGHT IN TOWER

Preacher, Who Was With Elder Rawlins Before Execution, Promises Aid.

Milton Rawlins, the only one of his family now serving a sentence for the murder of the Carter children some years ago, and Dr. J. M. Glenn, the Methodist minister who was with old man Rawlins during the night preceding his execution for the same crime met in the Tower yesterday.

"I am glad to see you, Milton," said the preacher. "I am interested in your case, and I am going to work for your pardon, because I believe you deserve it. I will do everything I can for you."

Dr. Glenn is pastor of the Methodist church in Moultrie, and was on a visit to the Tower. He did not know Rawlins was there until told by an attendant, and at once expressed a desire to see the young man, who is a life term prisoner in the case which has enlisted his sympathies.

Rawlins spent last night at the Tower, in transit to Telfair county camp, where he will spend the next few months. Lately he has been working in the DeKalb county camp.

Milton is the oldest of the three brothers convicted with their father of the Carter murders in Lowndes county some years ago. He is a finely built man, apparently 27 or 28 years old, of few words, but pleasant to talk to. His younger brothers, Jesse and Leonard, were pardoned by Governor Smith on the last day he served as governor.

"I don't know what is being done about a pardon," said Rawlins. "I haven't seen Mr. Cooper in some time, so I can't say what is being done."

COLQUITT DOCTORS FORM ORGANIZATION

Moultrie, Ga., January 19.—(Special.) A meting of the Colquitt County Medical Association was held yesterday in the offices of Dr. Everette Daniels, and a complete organization was perfected. The officers elected were: President, Dr. J. H. Green; vice president, Dr. J. C. Stone; secretary and treasurer, Dr. J. E. Lanier. Committees on entertainment, legislation and a board of censors were also appointed. It is the intention of the association to see that the laws governing the practice of medicine in the county are rigidly enforced and to assist the health authorities in combating the hook-worm disease.

Dr. T. A. Abercrombie, of the state board of health, was present, and lectured on the hook-worm disease. Dr. Abercrombie will be here for the next two or three months making a thorough examination of the school children of the county, and if deemed necessary, will establish a free dispensary for the treatmet of the disease.

The Argus appeared this afternoon as usual, only smaller in size.

The lower half of the building, occuried by Fincher & Nichols as a paint store room, was also burned. Their loss was small and fully covered by insurance. R. A. Johnstone, proprietor of the paper, plans to erect a bigger and better plant.

Autrey, and cashier, W. S. Stokes. The capital is $75,000, and upon this sum a 10 per cent cash dividend was declared and 20 per cent passed to the surplus. BUILDING BILL OF $16,000,000

Washington, January 19.—The house committee on public buildings and grounds today decided to report an omnibus public building bill carrying $16,000,000.

The committee voted to restrict each member of congress to one public building. Chairman Underwood, of the ways and means committee, and other house leaders advised against any public building bill, and made a speech before the committee several weeks ago, in which he indicated that, should the committee report a bill, it would undoubtedly be a matter for a caucus deliberation.

The original estimates for public buildings aggregated more than $30,000,000.

BANKER DECORATED BY GERMAN KAISER

New York, January 19.—James Speyer, the banker, has received from the German emperor the decoration of the Red Eagle of the second class, it became known here tonight. The honor was conferred through the German ambassador in Washington. It is understood to have been given in recognition of the part his family has played in national and international financial affairs, and also appreciation of his efforts to promote more cordial relations between Germany and the United States. Mr. Speyer was founder of the Theodore Roosevelt professorship in the University of Berlin, which resulted in the exchange of professors between leading universities of the two countries.

SCHOOL FOR LEGISLATORS IS PROPOSED IN ALABAMA

Montgomery, Ala., January 19.—(Special.)—In the opinion of many economists of this state, the best task that the senate of Alabama could undertake would be to institute or establish a school for the turning out of legislators.

It is considered that the work before legislatures is tht most important in the commonwealth, and that only perfect familiarity with the laws will enable the state to have passed such bills as will both be beneficial and wise.

THORNY IS PATH OF PEACEMAKER

When W. D. Cook Interfered, Husband and Wife Attacked Him, He Says.

The thorns in the path of the peacemaker are well illustrated in the case of W. D. Cook, of Blue Ridge, Fannin county, according to the statement which he and several of his friends made to Chairman R. E. Davison, of the state prison commission yesterday.

Because he tried to make a man stop beating his wife, he says, he was tried and convicted of assaulting and beating the woman, and sentenced to pay a fine of $500 or serve twelve months on the chaingang.

Cook was acting marshal of Blue Ridge, and was one day walking along the street when he heard a woman's cries, those of Mrs. Hattie Pierce. He went into the house and, seeing her husband beating her, he states, he went for the man, whereupon both the man and the woman went for him. Pierce, he states, whipped him soundly and took away his pistol. In the melee, he says, he pushed Mrs. Pierce over so that she fell upon the floor, though he claims he did not even strike her to protect himself from her assault.

Mr. Cook wants the sentence against him suspended until he has had opportunity to present the case to the prison commission, as he thinks he should be pardoned. Chairman Davison wrote to Governor Slaton, laying the facts before him, and requesting that he suspend Cook's sentence until his case can be investigated. In the meantime Cook is out on bond.

BROTHERS FREE QUINN FROM DEPUTY SHERIFF

Hazelhurst, Ga., January 19.—(Special)—Deputy Sheriff W. H. King, with two possemen, went today to arrest Emmett Quinn, charged with forgery. Quinn broke to run out the back door and was caught by King. One of the assistants had Quinn on the ground, when Quinn's brothers, four in number, went to the assistance of their brother and in the scuffle Quinn escaped. In fleeing he fired upon the officers.

Sheriff Ellis, with a posse, went out today and arrested two of the Quinns, charging them with resisting an officer in the discharge of his duty.

TEN ALBANY CITIZENS HELD AS POKER PLAYERS

Albany, Ga., January 19.—(Special.) The police commissioners of Albany "got on their ears" when the fact was set before them that police officers who made a raid yesterday morning which caught ten alleged poker players in the dragnet had failed to swear out warrants against the prisoners, but released them in accordance with instructions of Police Chief Westbrook.

It developed that heretofore no police officer has sworn out a warrant without first securing the chief's permission to do so, but all this is now past, and the officer who hesitates hereafter will himself be charged with neglect of duty and arraigned before the commission.

The ten men caught in the raid on the alleged gambling room are J. W. Ray, M. Berkowitz, S. B. Roberts, F. A. Davis, F. M. Bass, G. W. Culpepper, John Etheridge, Earl Mercer, Young Acree, Q. E. Webb. When arraigned for commitment before Justice deGraffenried, the bonds of all the parties were fixed at $200 with the exception of that of Ray, who is charged with running the gambling room. His bond was fixed at $300.

MEMORANDUM COST SHEETS INTRODUCED

Chicago, January 19.—Several thousand original memorandum cost sheets for beef used by Armour & Company at its South Omaha plant between March and September, 1910, were introduced in evidence by the government in the packers trial today.

They are the first original data dealing with the actual figuring of the beef cost within the period covered by the indictment unearthed in the trial and shows the allowances made for by-products by the test cost system. This system the government declares was used by the packers as the basis of fixing prices.

The sheets were produced by Edward J. McAdams, office manager at the South Omaha plant of Armour & Company.

Earlier in the day, Everett B. Dill and Perry N. Waterhouse, formerly managers for the National Packing Company at Boston from 1903 to 1906, testified that it was the practice for the representatives of Armour & Company, Swift & Company and Morris & Company to exchange memoranda of the daily shipments, margins and selling prices.

They said that in this way the representative of each company, knew what the other was doing. Sometimes this information was obtained by telepone and at other times the branch managers made the rounds of the other offices to get the figures.

Waterhouse testified that when he was in charge of the National Packing Company's business in Boston, the managers met every Saturday to exchange this information. He said they made daily and weekly reports to the main offices in Chicago regarding the price obtained on sales.

Temperance Address.

Bremen, Ga., January 19.—(Special.) Mrs. T. E. Patterson, of Griffin, of the state W. C. T. U., will deliver an address at Hamilton college, in Bremen, on the afternoon of January 25, on "Character Building." Mrs. Patterson will be the guest of Mrs. M. K. Phillips while in Bremen.

FREE ORGAN RECITALS ARE TO BE RESUMED

After a lapse of several weeks, the free Sunday afternoon concerts at the Auditorium-Armory are to be resumed. Tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock a concert will be given by Dr. Percy J. Starnes, under the auspices of the Atlanta Music Festival Association.

No admission will be charged, and the general public is cordially invited to be present. The auditorium will be comfortably heated, and there will be seating capacity for over 6,000.

The program will include the overture from Tannhauser, a Nocturne by Liszt, a march by Richard Strauss and other music.

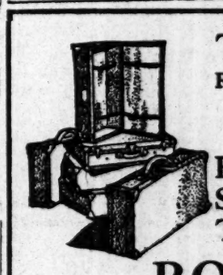

Big Still Destroyed.

Bremen, Ga., January 19.—(Special.) One of the largest and best-equipped stills operated by a moonshiner was captured by Deputies J. W. McClurkin and W. W. Battles, of Anniston, Ala., on the boundary of Cleburne and Randolph counties. The still was run by steam, and, it is said, could turn out twenty-five gallons a day. The "worm" of the still, it is said, was one of the largest the officers ever captured. It was factory made, and would cost $25. The still was destroyed by the officers with fire. There were no arrests.

The reception floor was thrown together for the dancing, and the walls were hung with bamboo. Palms were massed effectively in the hallway and in all the rooms, and long boxes of narcissus were set in windows and niches. A delicious supper was served, and the punch bowl was set in the midst of carnations, narcissus and asparagus fern which garlanded a table on the canvas-inclosed back porch, palms and flowers making of this porch a pretty retreat between dances.

It is not long since this gifted musician made her debut; it is but recently that she conquered the musically critical of Europe. Following upon the success attained in her own land, Anna Otten occupies that enviable position—so much sought after—of having received the unanimous indorsement of Berlin and Vienna.

"Such a decision is one from which there is no appeal. It is final. Miss Otten won her critical estimates and her audiences through sheer merit, supplemented by a personality of undeniable charm.

"She gained recognition of a splendid talent, a cultivated musical intelligence of the highest order, and temperamental gifts that enabled her to give her hearers something beyond mere beauty of tone and perfection of technique. It was this exceptonal quality of her interpretations of the violin masterpieces that caused Anna Otten to be hailed as a great artist—a virtuoso of the violin.

This day will be Emory day for Atlanta, as not only the seniors, but also all the members of the seven fraternities having chapters in Emory, will spend the day in Atlanta, having pictures made for the college annual.

C. E. Pittman, president of the senior class, will act as toastmaster at the banquet. The guest of honor at the occasion will be Dr. C. W. Peppler, who has coached the football team of the class since its freshman days. The committee on arrangements is headed by an Atlanta boy, J. S. Jones, Jr.

The following members of the class have been requested by the president to respond to toasts on the following subjects: C. C. Pittman, "Our Class;" J. C. Sirmons, "Men Wanted;" Dr. C. W. Peppler, subject to be chosen later; Quimby Melton, "Class Loyalty;" John Smith, "Joy in the Living;" LeGree Davis, subject to be chosen later, and T. M. Lee, "True College Men." Grey Singleton, the poet, will read his class poem at this time.

Arrangements have been made so that any former member of the class who wishes to do so, can attend the banquet by sending his name to Jack Jones, chairman of the committee on arrangements.

A copy of the New York Mercury, dated January 20, 1764, records the death of an unmarried lady at the age of 109 years, and adds: "She always wanted a husband."

NINETEEN YEAR-OLD AD RESTORES LOST JEWELS

Louisville, Ky., January 19.—Accidental perusal by a woman in San Francisco of a stray piece of the "lost and found" column torn from a Chicago paper published nineteen years ago will result in a Louisville woman recovering jewels which she lost while attending the Columbian Exposition in 1895.

The owner of the jewels is Mrs. H. C. Turner, of this city; the finder is Mrs. B. L. Marks, of San Francisco. They were in Chicago at the same time. Mrs. Turner mislaid two diamond rings and one with a ruby set; Mrs. Marks picked them up. Then began a fruitless quest on both sides, the one to recover her rings, the other to restore them. Not a clew was found by either though Mrs. Turner advertised and Mrs. Marks returned to California with the jewelry, while Mrs. Turner came home and gave up the search years ago.

She had almost forgotten her loss when a detective called on her yesterday with a letter which Chief of Police Lindsey had received from Mrs. Marks. The letter said that while looking over some old papers her glance fell on the fragment of a "lost ad" on the back of a clipping taken from a Chicago paper in 1893. It reminded her of three rings she had found in that city the same year and she was surprised upon reading the notice to see the identical rings described. Parts of the name and address of the advertiser were cut away, but she made out the word Louisville and she requested Chief Lindsey to find the owner of the rings. With this clew and an old city directory the detective took up the search. The rings are valued at $1,500.

CLARK AND FOLK WILL ABIDE BY CONVENTION

Washington, January 19.—Speaker Champ Clark today confirmed reports that he and former Governor Joseph W. Folk had agreed to stake their respective candidacies for the democratic presidential nomination on the outcome of the approaching convention of Missouri democrats at Joplin.

If this convention should indorse Governor Joseph W. Folk, Mr. Clark said he would forbid the further use of his name.

COLD STORAGE MEN SHOULD MAKE REPORTS

Washington, January 19.—Secretary of Agriculture Wilson, commenting today on the declaration of New York wholesalers that the price of butter would soon be 60 cents a pound because of the shortness of supply, said that if the cold storage dealers were required to make monthly reports to the department of agriculture as to how much butter, eggs, mutton, fish, etc., they had on hand, it would be possible to ascertain whether there really was a scarcity and whether there was good reason for advanced prices.

MRS. M. F. GOOLSBY DIES FROM EFFECTS OF FALL

Savannah, Ga., January 19.—(Special.)—Mrs. Margaret F. Goolsby died today from the effects of a fall sustained at her home. The body was shipped to Dublin. Mrs. Goolsby, who was 70 years of age, while coming down the stairs in her home, slipped and fell. There was a drop of only one step, but the fall was sufficient to break her hip and she was taken to the hospital.

The deceased is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Elizabeth Hester and Mrs. W. J. Scarborough, both of Dublin; three nieces, Mrs. Williams, of Augusta; Miss Alice Scarborough, of Jacksonville; and Mrs. Annie Wyche, of Jacksonville, and two nephews, E. S. Scarborough, of Sandersville, and C. L. Kane, of Dublin.

ITALIANS SEIZE FRENCH STEAMER

Tunis, January 19.—Italian destroyers today seized the French steamer Manouba, bound to Tunis from Marseilles.

The Manouba carried 99 passengers, including 29 Turkish nurses belonging to the company of the Red Crescent, which has the same object as the Red Cross Society.

The steamship company declares that the Manouba was not carrying contraband of any kind. In spite of this, the vessel was arrested and taken to Cagliari.

The Italian officers professed to believe that Turkish officers were on board disguised as nurses.

Italian destroyers also stopped and searched the German steamer Schleswig, which left Marseilles on Wednesday and is due at Alexandria on January 22.

Paris, January 19.—Premier Poincare has instructed the French ambassador at Rome to protest against the seizure of the steamship Manouba.

MACEDONIANS MAY RISE AGAINST TURKS

Constantinople, January 19.—The commission of inquiry sent by the Ottoman government to investigate the conditions in Macedonia shortly after the recent dynamite outrages in that region, have reported that the greatest dejection is manifested by the people. They have, acording to the report of the commission, prepared a secret petition to the foreign powers asking for intervention.

Assassinations are multiplying day by day, and dynamite outrages everywhere are on the increase. Even officers of the Turkish army are unable to hide their gloom.

Everywhere the people speak of a general rising, which, if it does not occur immediately, will take place in the spring.

The conditions are due to the presence of officers who are utterly unworthy of the confidence the Turkish government has placed in them. They disarm the Christian population and supply arms to the Mussulmans. Innocent people are condemned by them on the merest suspicion and cast into prison.

At Istib violence and assassination continued throughout the entire week, and there, as in other towns and villages, consternation prevails. Early in December outrage in a mosque at Istib caused the death of twelve persons. The Turks avenged the outrage on the Bulgarians, of whom they killed and wounded a large number.

HOOK WORM CAMPAIGN FINISHED IN LOWNDES

Valdosta, Ga., January 19.—(Special.)—The anti-hook worm campaign by the state health board which has been conducted in Lowndes county for the past six weeks under the direction of Drs. S. H. Jacobs and C. H. Dobbs, field physicians, has been concluded. The physicians made an interesting report of their work to the board of county commissioners at the meeting this week, showing just what has been accomplished in the county. Seven dispensaries were established for the examination and treatment of patients; at Valdosta, Clyattville, Hahira, Old Redland, Lake Park, Naylor and Bemiss, at which 637 persons were examined. Of these 507 were found to be infected, showing a percentage of infection of 79.5. The Valdosta district showed the smallest percentage of infection—slightly over 71 per cent, and Bemiss the highest—100 per cent. The work of the state physicians in Lowndes was confined almost exclusively to the examination and treatment of white patients, only 5 negroes being examined. Six hundred and sixty-one treatments were given; of these 473 were school children.

A very unusual case was found in this county, the patient being a boy who had become blind as the result of hook-worm infection. He was examined and treated for the disease, and then sent to an Atlanta specialist for a slight operation which has restored his sight. The doctors regard the case as one of the most remarkable they have ever encountered. They state that hook worm undoubtedly produced the cataract from which the boy suffered, and that its removal has restored his sight.

Cold still prevails throughout the western and central states, especially around the Great Lakes.

Folsom's Condition Critical.—The condition of L. B. Folsom, the famous hotel man, who has been at death's door for several days, was critical at a late hour last night, though during the morning he appeared stronger. In the afternoon, however, his death was momentarily expected. He is 87 years old, and this lessens his chances. He has been unconscious the greater part of the last few days.

Where Is Miss Sanford?—Hurrying to the bedside of their daughter who, according to a telegram received Thursday is dangerously ill in Atlanta, Mr. and Mrs. K. Sanford, of 2829 Calumet avenue, Chicago, Ill., arrived in Atlanta yesterday afternoon and after a vain search applied to the police for aid in locating Miss Sanford. The elder Sanfords received a telegram in Chicago, signed simply by "Mrs. Hunter," saying that Margaret Sanford was dangerously ill at the sender's home. No address was given, and in spite of the fact that one of the two telegrams sent by Mr. Sanford from Chicago was received by Mrs. Hunter the local telegraph office could not give her address.

JORDAN SIGNS HIS CONTRACT

Edited by DICK JEMISON

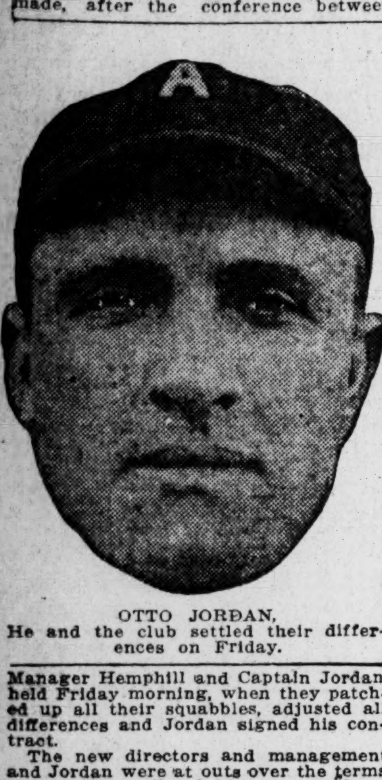

JORDAN STAYS WITH CRACKERS

Former Mogul Comes to Terms With Club.

Differences Are Amicably Settled—One Year Contract Is Signed—Alperman May Also Be Kept—Both Sides Are Satisfied Now.

A. Otto Jordan, king of second-sackers, and last year manager of the Atlanta team, will during the coming season be field captain and play second base for the team.

This cheerful announcement can be made, after the conference between

OTTO JORDAN,
He and the club settled their differences on Friday.

Manager Hemphill and Captain Jordan, held Friday morning, when they patched up all their squabbles, adjusted all differences and Jordan signed his contract.

The new directors and management and Jordan were at outs over the terms the contract offered him was to have run. Jordan wanted a three-year contract, and the new moguls could only give him a one-year term, as they themselves have been elected only for that period.

After all the tangle, which was occasioned by Jordan being in Pittsburg, and in some measure, through a misunderstanding, was thrashed out, everything passed off in an amicable way, and one would not think that they had ever had a squabble whatsoever.

The Crackers needed Jordan. No one knows that better than the new moguls themselves. Otto wanted to stay here. His friends wanted him to remain, and, all in all, it has worked out just the way that everyone wanted it to, anyway.

Jordan has not got his three-year contract, but, then, he is satisfied just the same. He realizes that if, at the end of the present season, he has delivered the same grade of ball that has been marking his work ever since he came to the Southern League, in 1905, he can sign up next year at another good figure; and, from all indications, the great second-sacker is going to have the best season during this one that he ever had.

C. A. ("Whitey") Alperman, who was secured by the Crackers when they thought that there was a possibility of Jordan not being with the team, may have to be let go, though right now Manager Hemphill is living in hopes of having both Jordan and Alperman in the infield.

If D. A. ("Kid") Howard will do for the shortfield position, and it looks very much like he will, then, as Alperman is also a good third-baseman, there is no reason in the world why Hemphill should not put Whitey on the third cushion, move O'Dell to the outfield and strengthen both the in and outer works as the result.

It all remains on just how the salaries will come about. Manager Hemphill must stay in the salary limit. And he is going to stay there, too. But, if he can swing Alperman into line and balance off his team and keep within the limit, all the better.

Personally, we are mighty glad that Jordan and the club agreed on terms. Otto is a grand ball player, a fine fellow personally, and the combination of Hemphill and Jordan is going to prove just as effective as the Smith-Jordan duet did a couple of years ago.

YOUNG NITCHIE MEETS ENGLISH

Welters in Star Boxing Bout Before Staten's Club Tuesday.

Young Nitchie and Clarence English, the two welterweights who will meet before Harry Staten's Club Tuesday night, are on their way to Atlanta now and will be ready to enter the ring in good condition.

This bout is being looked forward to by the fans as easily the best of the season. Certainly it is the most expensive that has ever been put on in Atlanta. Manager Staten has decided that the taste of Atlantans has been educated up to a point where they demand the very best and he has gone out after it. He admits that probably he will lose money on the affair, but he intends that local Queensberry fans shal have something to talk about for some time to come.

In getting a couple of welters, Staten has secured men who are in the class that is perhaps the most popular in Atlanta. Local fans know well from experience that the middleweights and the heavyweights are too awkward and clumsy to prove entertaining boxers. There are such things as clever heavyweights, but Atlanta never has seen them and probably never will.

Nor are the men at the other end of the weight scale, the feathers and the bantams, very popular locally. They are clever, but somehow they don't seem to have the exhilarating punch. Lightweights and welterweights are the big cards in Atlanta and by springing the first welterweight bout of the season Staten has assured a popular bill. Staten hasn't just contented himself with getting a couple of welters, though. He has gone further and signed a couple of good welters. Clarence English is the greatest welterweight who ever appeared in Atlanta. He is clever enough, but what has put him in the top row is his terrific ability to slug. There is hardly a tougher boy in the welterweight class in America today. Young Nitchie is one of the toughest and best welters in New York, and he will give English one of the hardest battles of his troublesome career.

MARIST FIVE LICKS G. M. A.

Marist College yesterday defeated the Georgia Military Academy basketball team on the later's floor, 29 to 27 in a close, hard-fought game.

The two left forwards, Hall for G. M. A., and Morrison, for Marist grabbed off most of the scoring each tallying 25 points Both teams played good guarding games.

This is the closest run that the Marist boys have had during the entire season and it was not until the last few minutes of play that they were able to forge ahead and even then the game was in doubt until the last.

The line-up:

G. M. A.		Marist.
Hall	l. f.	Morrison
May	r. f.	Murphy
Terry	c.	Smith
Leake	l. g.	Hancock
Luck	r. g.	Brannen

Referee, Joe Bean; Umpire, Kinnear; timers, Barnes and McCall; scorer, Harrison.

Points scored by Marist—Morrison 9 field goals and 7 foul goals; Hancock, and Brannen, 1 field goal each. For G. M. A.—Hall, 10 field goals and 5 foul goals; Luck, 2 foul goals.

CLUB QUINTET PLAYS AUBURN

The Atlanta Athletic Club will have as their opponents tonight in a game of basketball the team representing Auburn and a great game is to be expected. Auburn has a fast team, and one that should make the club men go, though on the dope the local lads are expected to win the game.

The usual prices of admission will prevail with the usual dancing features after the game.

MAKE SCHEDULE AT LITTLE ROCK

The committee of the Southern League will hold its annual meeting at Little Rock today, at which time they will draft the playing dates for the coming season.

It is strictly up to them to see that Atlanta is not handed the same deal that was slipped to the Crackers last season when the majority of the Saturday games had to be called an hour earlier in order to allow the teams to catch a train for some city where Sunday ball was being played.

BABB TO LEAD SYRACUSE CLUB

Charley Babb, former mogul of the Memphis Turtles, is to manage the Syracuse, New York State League, during the coming season.

CALLAHAN WOULD PENSION OLD STARS

Chicago, January 19.—Jimmy Callahan, manager of the Chicago American club, is of the opinion that organized baseball should lend a helping hand to the stars of bygone days.

"The major leagues," he says, "should set aside one day each summer for a championship game and apply the receipts toward maintaining a pension fund. This money could be used for providing comforts to worthy players of the past, which they otherwise could not enjoy.

"Better still, if the owners could create jobs good during the playing season. The wages these veterans would earn would help them wonderfully for a time."

MOTORCYCLE RACES FOR NEWARK TRACK

Newark, N. J., January 19.—This city is to have a board track exclusively for motorcycle racing, if the plans of the New Jersey Motor Club of Newark are consummated. The plans provide for the erection of a quarter-mile oval at Electric park, the site of the old Vailsburg track and directly across the street from the Newark Velodrome, where races are held during the summer season.

The new plant, with grandstands and bleachers, is to cost $25,900. The track will be built at an angle of 54 degrees, and will be a perfect oval, capable of standing 100 miles an hour on a 7-horse power motorcycle.

OVER THREE HUNDRED ATHLETES TO MEET

Chicago, January 19.—The names of 307 athletes are in the entry list for the First regiment indoor meet tomorrow night. This is the largest number ever nominated for indoor games in Chicago.

Large fields will toe the mark in four of the track events. Fifty-nine have been entered in the 40-yard dash, 47 in the quarter mile, 40 in the half mile and 37 in the mile run.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.

New York, January 19.—Again the advices from Lancashire lockout were most conflicting, to finally state that the trouble had been adjusted and the mills would open on Monday. Business was of the most limited character until these last advices were received, when the firm who were large sellers yesterday bgecame buyers, closing the market firm at an advance of 9 points. An active demand is expected in Liverpool following the settlement of the troubles. The movement of the crop, while heavy, is interrupted by the continued bad weather east of the Mississippi. On the whole the traders are bearish, looking for free selling from the south when it becomes possible to do business.

COTTON THE PAST WEEK; REVIEW OF THE MARKET

New York, January 19.—Cotton has acted nervous, owing to the strike in Lancashire and at Lawrence, Mass., and the fear that a general strike might break out among the industries of England, including the coal industry, and that the cotton strike at Lawrence-England. Riots at Lawrence, and the might spread to ther parts of New calling out of the militia to quell them, have not added to the feeling of security in regard to the New England outlook. Also, it is contended that if prices continue at about their present level this spring, there is not likely to be much if any reduction in the acreage in Texas and the southwest generally or, indeed, anywhere else. The continent has been selling in Liverpool and apparently here also. Liverpool and the south have sent selling orders. Hedge selling by the south has been something of a feature.

Southern spot markets have been reported generally quiet. The ginning is said to be on a liberal scale. Thus far it is some 5,000,000 bales in excess of the quantity brought into sight. Though cold weather has interfered with the marketing of the crop, very large quantities of cotton at points of distribution at the south are still to be forwarded. Big spot interests, which were recently large buyers, have been selling freely, a fact which has contributed to give prices a setback. The condition of the soil at the south is said to be good, after heavy precipitations of rain and snow, putting the ground, it is declared, in the best condition seen for several years, in marked contract, it is added, to that witnessed in 1908-09 and 1909-10. Also, the weather at the south has grown milder, and there are signs of a larger movement of the crop. On the other hand, spinners have been calling for cotton more freely both at home and abroad.

The world shows a disposition to buy at around 9½ to 10 cents, fearing that something may happen to the next crop. Exports look as though they would greatly exceed even the big total of 1908-9, to say nothing of last year's and that of the year before. It is also believed that American spinners, whatever the appearance to the contrary, will take a very much larger quantity of cotton than they have for several years. China and Japan are buying more freely.

Some cotton goods have advanced. The cotton trade has lost its terror of the monster crop which for a time was a sort of Franenstein, and it is now believed that it will be absorbed far more readily, partly through spinners' buying for delivery some years ahead, than at one time seemed conceivable. Mills at home and abroad find trade more profitable than formerly, when the high cost of raw material militated seriously against prosperity in the cotton manufacturing industry. Large spot interests under contract to the mills find it no easy matter to get white cotton at the south on a favorable basis of values.

WEEK'S TRADE REVIEWED.

What Commercial Agencies Say About Business.

New York, January 19.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade tomorrow will say that extreme cold weather, while it has stimulated certain branches of trade, has had the general effect of checking retail distribution. Otherwise the business situation shows a strengthened confidence, combined with a clearly defined conservatism. The best exhibit continues in iron and steel, in which further large orders by the railroads, the government and the individual contractors serve to increase the volume of business and cut down the number of idle mills. Pittsburg reports that production continues at a fair rate. Pig iron is firmer and especially the basic grade, while in finished lines sheets are more active and tin plate is being specified in fair volume. Business in railroad equipment is slow in developing, but a good order has been placed for line pipe and there is a brisk demand for merchant pipe. Prices have not materially changed. The output of coke has increased and the price of prompt furnace is steadily advancing, the quotation now being $1.85 and $2 at oven.

Retail dry goods distribution has been retarded by the extremely cold weather over a large area and the efforts of merchants holding special sales were adversely affected. New low prices have been named in primary markets on cotton blankets for fall delivery. Advances are being secured on worsted knitting yarns and some lines of overcoatings for fall of 1912 have been well ordered. The disturbance among mill workers in Massachusetts has not extended. Buying is still conservative as regards long future obligations. Business with China was resumed and general export trade continues satisfactory, shipments last week aggregating 5,000 bales to miscellaneous ports.

The volume of trade in shoes has increased, owing to the return of salesmen to the road and to an increased number of buyers at Boston, who are taking more stock for present requirements. Prices are firm and advances are asked.

The leather market is still extremely strong, with tanners holding very firm at the recent advances. Sole leather is especially firm.

There is increased activity in the hide market, Chicago packers selling about 75,000 hides of all varieties and in some instances obtaining advances over a week ago of ¼ to ½.

LEAVES SANITARIUM THEN KILLS SELF

Philadelphia, January 19.—Several hours after escaping from a sanitarium Eugene Dalsimer, a member of a family prominent in the clothing business of Philadelphia, shot and killed himself tonight in a room in a hotel. Mr. Dalsimer, who had been suffering from a nervous breakdown, purchased a revolver this afternoon in a store, and asked the clerk whether the weapon could be returned in case it was not used.

The pardon was granted because Krueger's innocence had been established. Krueger left Atlanta on the midnight train for New York.

LATEST REPORTS FROM ALL THE MARKETS

SHARP ADVANCE MADE IN COTTON

Reports of Settlement of Lancashire Labor Troubles Caused Advance.

New York, January 19.—Definite reports that the Lancashire labor troubles had been settled, and that work would be resumed in the British mills on Monday morning, imparted a firmer tone to the cotton market this afternoon, and after a comparatively quiet, but steady, morning there was rather a sharp advance. The close was firm at a net gain of from 6 to 10 points.

The opening was steady at unchanged prices to an advance of 5 points, which was about in line with the English cables. Realizing or liquidation by recent small buyers who were probably disappointed that this morning's news from Lawrence, Mass., did not confirm the rumors of yesterday afternoon that the dispute in the mills there had been settled, caused slight reactions from the opening figures during the morning, but Liverpool continued steady; there was evidently buying of a good character here on a scale down, and as soon as the early offerings had been absorbed, the market developed a tendency to work higher. After selling about 4 to 6 points above the closing figures of yesterday private cables from Liverpool, reporting a strike settlement unlikely today, caused another setback to within a shade of last night's closing figures, but the market later became more active, as well as firmer, on covering and bull support, inspired by the announcement that at last the Lancashire disputes, which resulted in a lockout just before the first of the year, had been settled. The close was within a point of the best.

Rains were reported in the south again today, with lower temperatures in the western belt, suggesting a continued light movement, but estimates for receipts at tomorrow's ports were somewhat heavier, supposedly owing to an effort to get cotton through for filling out large January export engagements. Heavy export engagements are also reported for February, and today's clearances were very heavy, with the total for the season now aggregating about 1,120,000 in excess for the same period last year.

Spinners' takings for the week appeared to be considered rather disappointing and may have restricted the late advance on the bullish English strike news.

Receipts today 80,042, against 69,399 last week and 51,546 last year. Today's receipts at Galveston 10,758, against 9,509 last year; at New Orleans, 10,789, against 10,431 last year, and at Houston 15,639, against 5,950 last year.

Cotton spot closed quiet, 5 points higher; middling uplands, 9.55; do gulf, 9.80; sales, 1,300 bales.

trading, as after the call buying orders wer freely trading, as after the cal buying orders were freely scattered around the ring, apparently being based on the unfavorable weather over the cotton belt. The weather map reflected a great deal of rain, but temperatures were only moderately low.

At the end of the first half hour of business prices were 1 to 2 points over yesterday's final quotations.

The market had a very steady tone throughout the morning session. The into-sight movement was smaller than expected and pointed to a decrease in the visible supply this week, for the first time since the crop commenced to move in volume this season. This stimulated buying, to some extent, but above the level of yesterdays close shorts put out fresh lines. Trading was professional in character and chiefly confined to scalpers and room traders.

At noon, the market was quiet at a net rise of 2 to 4 points.

In the afternoon session, the news of the settlement of the labor troubles in Lancashire had a stimulating effect on the market and prices were put 10 points up from the lowest of the day.

At 2 o'clock the trading months were 8 to 9 points over yesterday's final quotations.

Cotton futures closed steady at a net advance of 9 to 14 points.

STOCKS MOVED BRISKLY UPWARD

Railroad Stocks Get in Lead Again—Movement a Broad One.

New York, January 19.—Prices of stocks moved upward briskly today. The standard railroad shares which have been dormant last week, stepped back into the lead and less attention was paid to the specialties which recently have almost monopolized speculative interest. The day's volume of business was not large, but the movement was a broad and comprehensive one. Buying was conducted in an aggressive manner which roused themarket from its apathetic condition. A better inquiry was evident all through the day, and in the last hour the demand expanded sufficiently to send up prices rapidly. Virtually the entire list of active stocks benefited by the movement, gains ranging from 1 to over 3 points.

There was no apparent reason for the change in the condition of the market other than its technical position. The short interest is believed to have been increased heavily of late and the bullish demonstration of the last hour resulted in hurried covering.

The recent vigorous demand for bonds was well sustained, and it is probable that the absorption of these securities on a large scale was, to some extent, responsible for the increased inquiry for the higher class of dividend paying stocks. The heaviest trading in bonds for some time is now being carried on, not only on the stock exchange, but in the way of private sales. The various tobacco and new street railway bonds were traded in most heavily during the early part of the month, owing to speculation in these issues, but in the last few days the investment demand has been more apparent, with heavier orders, railroad and United States Steel bonds.

Reading and the Hill shares made the largest gains in the stock list. Reading's gain was almost four points and both Great Northern preferred and Northern Pacific rose nearly 3 points. The Hill shares took the lead early in the day, and remained its most conspicuous features. Various unconfirmed reports were in circulation to account for the strength of these shares. The one most often heard was to the effect that control of the Pacific road was to pass from the Gould management to the Hill interests.

Lehigh Valley was followed closely at the opening, because it sold today ex-dividend and without the right to subscribe to the new issue of coal stock. With this deduction, the stock was quoted nearly 20 points lower. The first sale was at 165½ compared with yesterday's close of 184⅞. The quotation later rose a point, but there was no sign of the flurry which it was thought might result from the peculiar position of the short interest in this stock.

The tobacco stocks continued their meteoric rise. Liggett and Myers rose 15½ points to 183½, a gain of more than 26 points this week. Lorillard rose 9 points to 185, and the other stocks in the American Tobacco group advanced more slowly.

The December railroad returns began to come in today. That of Baltimore and Ohio was exceptionally favorable. A gain in operating revenue of $346,000 and a cut in expenses of $210,000 combined to increase the net revenue by $556,000.

Money continued to pile up at this center and rates for time loans were still easier. A cash gain of $16,000,000 for the week was suggested by known movements of money.

Bonds were strong. Burlington joint fours and United States Steel fives were in heavy demand. Total sales at par value, $5,190,000. Panama threes advanced ⅛ on call.

WHEAT STRONG IN THE LAST HOUR

Alleged Shortage of Millions of Bushels in May Wheat Gave a Stronger Tone.

Chicago, January 19.—Talk of an alleged shortage of 80,000,000 to 100,000,000 bushels in May wheat here gave a strong tone to the market today in the last hour, closing figures ranging from last night's level to ⅛@¼ cent higher. Latest trading left corn ⅛ off to ⅛ advance, oats a shade to ⅛ higher, and hog products at 10 to 15 cents decline.

Statements that the chief speculative option in wheat had been extravagantly oversold by Chicago traders, originated with a widely known dealer in cash grain. It was pointed out that his estimate, if correct, would mean that more than the entire visible supply in the United States has been hedged here. A good-sized decrease in stocks at Minneapolis acted also as an aid for the bulls. Unfavorable weather in Argentina had a similar effect, as did reports of demand at Liverpool for Pacific coast wheat. Early in the session, however, the market suffered some depression, owing to a forecast of larger world shipments, and because of growing indications that the Argentine railway strike would soon be settled. The dip in prices, though, was only of a temporary sort. May swung between 99⅞ and $1.00½, with last sales at $1.00¼, a gain of ⅛@¼ net.

Investment demand absorbed a great deal of corn from the sources where selling has chiefly developed of late. Buying was based on a belief that the railroads, despite milder weather, would be unable to handle promptly shipments already on tracks. May fluctuated from 65¾ to 66⅜, with the close 66⅛, unchanged from last night. Cash grades were only in moderate request. No. 2 yellow in car lots was quoted at 69@70 for old.

Although oats followed corn, the firmness was not so robust. There were denials of the reported sales of Canadian oats at New York. Outside limits reached by May proved to be 49¾ and 49¼@49⅜. The close—49½—was 1-16 above last night.

Persistent heavy selling on the part of a leading packer, and his associates knocked the props from under the provision market. The hog run west was of almost record-breaking size. When trading cased prices had been slashed 10 to 15 cents all around.

PRICES SOARING FOR FOODSTUFFS

No Explanation Given for the Advances—Some of the Increases.

New York, January 19.—The price of foodstuffs of almost every kind is up again in New York to record figures. The indications are that dealers say that the top notch in the rising scale has not yet been reached.

No explantion is given for the advances, which are said to be without precedent at this season of the year. The principal increases are as follows:

Beef 2 1-2 to 3 cents a pound.
Lamb, 2 1-2 to 3 1-2.
Poultry, 2 to 4.
Cheese, 2 cents.
Potatoes, 20 cents to $1 a barrel.
Eggs, 5 cents a dozen.

Vegetables of all sorts, including the canned products, have advanced. Butter is selling at 48 cents a pound wholesale.

The only reduction expected is in the price of the eggs.

To Prevent Fixing of Prices.

Chicago, January 19.—The present high price of butter lent additional interest to proceedings against the Chicago butter and egg board, which were scheduled to be resumed today.

L. D. Judson, former secretary of the Elgin butter board, and his successor, Colvin W. Brown, had been subpoenaed to appear today. The purpose of their testimony, it was said, is to try to show that the Elgin and Chicago boards unite to fix butter prices.

The action is a civil proceeding to enjoin the quotation committee of the board from fixing the price of butter and eggs at their regular sessions, a custom held to be in defiance of the Sherman anti-trust law.

Judson identified records which the government contends will show that members of the Chicago butter and egg board were also affiliated with the Elgin board of trade and that they worked in conjunction to fix the price on butter and eggs.

Dealers Will Assist.

Toledo, Ohio, January 19.—A number of butter dealers today expressed a willingness, to assist the prosecutor in his investigation of butter prices before the grand jury here. The produce men contend that there is no conspiracy in restraint of trade as between them in the Elgin board. They say that contracts are made with farmers for their supply weeks and months ahead of deliveries, with the agreement that the Elgin prices at the time of the delivery will be paid.

High Prices at New Orleans.

New Orleans, January 19.—Prices of practically all foodstuffs have soared to record prices in New Orleans. Local grocers and commission merchants attribute the increase in prices largely to the extremely cold weather that has prevailed generally over the country this winter, causing serious delays in getting produce to the markets.

Butter is higher here than it has ever been. It is selling for 41 1-2 cents wholesale, or 4 cents higher than the quotations of a week ago.

Eggs, 38 cents a dozen wholesale, an increase of 5 cents for the week.

Poultry, 16 cents a pound, an increase for the week of 2 to 4 cents.

Cheese 18 1-2 cents, an increase of 2 cents.

Potatoes, $4.50 a barrel, an increase for the week of 25 to 75 cents.

Beefsteak is from 2 1-2 to 3 cents a pound higher, and lamb 2 1-2 to 3 1-2 cents higher.

Mixed common cows, if fat, 600 to 800 pounds, 3½ to 4.

Mixed bunches, common to fair, 600 to 700 pounds, 2¾ to 3¼.

Good butcher bulls, 3¼ to 3½.

Prime hogs, 160 to 200 average, 5.90 to 6.25.

Good butcher hogs, 140 to 160 average, 5.75 to 6.00.

Good butcher pigs, 100 to 140 pounds, 5.50 to 5.60.

Heavy rough hogs, 250 to 200, 5.50 to 5.75.

Above quotations apply to corn-fed hogs. Mast and peanut fattened hogs, 1 to 1½ cents under.

Good supply of cattle this week. Market about steady on best grades. Medium stuff more plentiful at prices a fraction lower than week ago. There will be some cattle carried over, which, together with several loads of feed steers reported, will give the yards a well assorted run for the week. There seems to be a tendency on the part of the feeders to market their cattle a little early, which is likely to have a demoralizing effect, as this warmed up stuff is unsatisfactory and will not bring the price of prime finished cattle.

Hogs have been coming more freely this week. Market steady with fair demand.

IT IS NECESSARY at this season to feed your hens some good laying tonic in order to start them to laying. It will pay you to do this, as it is expensive to be feeding a lot of hens and not getting eggs in return. We recommend either of the following as being good: Conkey's Laying Tonic, Lee's Egg Maker and Rust's Egg Producer. Price, 25c, 50c and $1.

TO START RIGHT you should have the Essex Model Incubators and Brooders. If you have already started you can make improvements by operating these machines. These machines are put up in sizes to suit the operator and are the standard of perfection. Let us mail you a catalogue with cuts, prices, etc.

POULTRY, LIKE EVERYTHING ELSE that eats, should have the very best grade of food. When feeding the "Red Comb" Foods you are assured that your fowls are getting the very best, with all sound grain, with no grit, shell or waste; in fact, foods of quality. One trial order will convince you that the above is correct. Write for a copy of our Poultry Supply Catalogue.

WE ARE HEADQUARTERS for drinking founts, grit and shell boxes, feed pans, leg bands, poultry markers, egg boxes, egg carriers, bone cutters, etc.

ATLANTA'S STRIDES, DAY BY DAY
ALL THE NEWS OF REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING

Samuel S. Thorpe, of Minneapolis, president of the National Association of Real Estate Exchanges; Nathan William MacChestney, of Chicago, attorney of the national organization, and A. H. Frederick, a prominent real estate man of St. Louis, who will speak at tonight's banquet of the Atlanta Real Estate Men's Association, at the Piedmont hotel, will arrive in Atlanta this morning.

The visitors will be met at the train by a committee consisting of R. O. Cochran, W. A. Foster, H. W. Dillin, J. H. Ewing, Harris G. White, J. W. Dobbins and General A. J. A telegram from Forrest Adair, who is in Florida, was received Friday afternoon, which stated that he would be unable to be present at the banquet and deliver the address of welcome, as he had been invited to do. Petition for School Site.

A petition is being circulated by H. B. Baylor asking that the city purchase Gabbett hill for the site for a new Boys' High school building.

The location advocated is a well-elevated tract bounded by Pine, Currier and Ripley street and Bedford place. The fact that it is centrally located and at the same time is in a secluded neighborhood is advanced in its favor. The site is also easily accessible by street cars from all parts of the city.

The matter has been discussed before, and George Parrott, who is a third owner in the property, at that time offered to dispose of his third interest to the city at the price he paid for it, plus the interest on his investment. The other two owners, who are E. G. Black and W. B. Mathews, have plans formulated for the subdivision and sale of the property, but say that they are willing to let the city have it at a reasonable profit.

South Georgia Immigration.

Incoming trains to Atlanta during the last several days have been crowded with immigrants bound, the greater part of them, for south Georgia, where they are seeking homes on Georgia farms. The majority of these immigrants are from the west and northwest. They are thrifty farmers who have been sifted out from the thousands of inquirers through the railroads and Georgia real estate agencies, and are a most desirable class of settlers. It is thought that the majority of them will locate in Georgia.

The industrial departments of the local railroad offices have been flooded with inquiries about Atlanta and Georgia farm lands since the recent cold wave that struck the northern and western states so severely. Many of these writers gave as specific reasons for desiring to leave the northern states the extreme severity of the northern winters, together with the high price of farm lands in proportion to their productivity. All express themselves as being favorably impressed with the prospects in Georgia as they have learned them through the advertising media which they have received.

New Buildings.

John Silvey & Co. have announced that they will erect a six-story building on the corner of Marietta and Spring streets, on the site now occupied by the old Silvey home, and will move their business there. Nothing definite could be learned as to the plans for the structure on Friday, except that it is hoped to have the building completed by fall. The lot on which the building is to be erected fronts 100 feet on Marietta street with a depth of about 200 feet.

The Georgia Railway and Electric Company has purchased, from Mrs. Mary Mynatt, a lot 50x210 feet adjoining the company's car barns, on Butler street, for a consideration of $4,500. It is announced that the company will build a $50,000 addition to its barns on this lot.

The C. B. Myers Construction Company has just closed a contract to build a $12,000 residence for Joseph Regenstein at No. 1161 Peachtree street, which is about 200 feet north of Seventeenth street. E. E. Dougherty is the architect. The plans call for a two-story brick veneer residence of the Georgia colonial style. The ground floor will be 48x50 feet, and will contain eleven rooms.

Miss Leila Ross has just completed plans for a handsome two-story, nine-room residence for Dr. Royall J. Miller on Peachtree street. P. J. Wesley & Son have the contract.

A. F. N. Everett is drawing plans for a two-story New England colonial style residence for Miss Lowe, in West End Park, which is to cost about $4,000.

He also has plans for two bungalows for E. G. Willingham & Co. in Sutherland, Kirkwood. These houses will cost $3,500 each.

Fifteenth Reaches China.

Pekin, January 19.—The Fifteenth regiment of United States infantry, which is to act as a guard for a section of the railroad from Pekin to the coast, arrived at Chin Wang Toa today on board the transport Logan.

The American troops, immediately after disembarkation, were inspected by their commander. A detachment then moved from Chin Wang Tao along the railway, where they took over the duty of guarding the line from Tang Shan to Lanchow from the British troops, which returned to Tien Tsin.

More than 300 American troops will be quartered in a warehouse at Tien Tsin, which has been rented for the purpose.

CHARMING BILLIE BURKE PLAYS TO RECORD HOUSE

Even if Billie Burke could not act a little bit—which is a great big if, for she is already an actress of decided charm who gives promise of great things for the future—it would have been well worth one's time to have sat through the four acts of "The Runaway" simply for the satisfaction of feasting one's eyes on her exquisite, flower-like beauty and envying her some small measure of her boundless youth and joyousness.

Her beauty—the natural, unaffected beauty of youth—is such that it appeals to men and women alike. It almost hurts one—this beauty of hers. And the best part of it all is that she seems as unconscious of it as if it was nothing to consider.

The audience which saw Billie Burke at the Atlanta theater last night was by count the record for the house. Only ten seats on the lower floor were vacant, the boxes were filled, while the balcony was sold out. It was a unit in applauding the charm of Miss Burke and there were repeated curtain calls for her at the conclusion of each act.

In the nature of things it is a rather difficult problem—the constructing a play especially for an actress of Miss Burke's years—and Michael Marton has succeeded admirably in overcoming what at first would appear a very great handicap. For, say what you will, it is not every maid of eighteen who throws her heart at the feet of a bachelor of forty-nine, even if he is famout and well-preserved and it is leap year. No, my bachelor friends, flattering as it may seem to you, it doesn't happen but once in a great while in real life; and the majority of us are human enough to have wished that Colette had fallen in love with some dashing young chap a few years her senior.

But this is beggaring the question. The real thing is Billie Burke. From the moment she stepped on the stage it was like a breath of fresh air perfumed with violets. Her charm drenched the entire four acts. When she was not on the stage—which was infrequent—the play lost interest and seemed flat and dull.

Briefly told, "The Runaway" is the story of Colette, a little French girl who lives with her maiden aunts who are cold and utterly forbidding. They want her to marry the village boob, whereat she rebels and runs away to Paris and hunts up Maurice Delaney, a painter who she had met at her aunt's house while he was on a sketching tour He takes her in and gradually she falls in love with him. He is perfectly innocent of the state of affairs and continues to regard her as a child, much to her disgust and anger. Literally she has to make love to him to open his eyes.

The play is charmingly told, and the supporting company is an excellent one. C. Aubrey Smith as Maurice Delaney; Edwin Nicander as Aleide Pingo, and Morton Selten as Vignaux were particularly good. "The Runaway" will be seen at matinee and again at night.

SIDNEY ORMOND.

Keith Vaudeville.
(At the Forsyth.)

Matinee and night performances on Saturday will conclude the engagements of the acts that have made up the program at the Forsyth this week. For next week the bill is one of brilliant promise. It is made up of some of the best-known feature acts in vaudeville. One of the main features will be the wonderful transformation act of Staley and Birbeck. This is an international favorite. It has been seen in every part of the globe and with wonderful success. The scenes in this act change as quick as a flash, and the effect is sensational. Charles Bowser and Company, in "Superstition," will be another of the features that will be of value.

"Silver Threads."
(At the Lyric.)

When Richard J. Jose, star of "Silver Threads," was playing in New York at the time soldiers were going to the front during the Spanish-American war, he was in the throng on Broadway, down which the boys were marching. He was recognized and upon being urged began the song "Goodby, Dolly, I Must Leave You, Though It Breaks My Heart to Go." Many hearts were touched. When Jose arrives next week to play in "Silver Threads" at the Lyric he will make his entrance singing the same song.

TURKS ATTACK ITALIAN COLUMN

Tripoli, January 19.—A terrific attack was made yesterday by a large body of Turks and Arabs on an Italian column which was on the march about 10 miles from the town of Tripoli.

The Italian troops, which consisted of detachments of all arms, left Tripoli early in the morning on the way to Chirgarish, an oasis about 10 or 11 miles along the coast to the west of the town, and surrounded by a number of mud forts which had hitherto given shelter to Arab irregulars. As the soldiers were marching along the road, which runs parallel to the coast, they were attacked by a large force of Turks and Arabs.

The Italians immediattly drew up in position and threw up field entrenchments.

The enemy continued its attacks throughout the day, but finally retired.

Details of the losses have not yet been reported.

To Discuss Peace.

Rome, January 19.—Although it is officially announced that the object of the visit of Herr von Widerlen-Wachter, the German foreign secretary, who is expected to arrive on Friday, is to meet Foreign Minister San Giulano, the real reason for his coming is to discuss possible conditions of peace between Itady and Turkey and the amount Italy is ready to pay as indemnity to Turkey for the loss of Tripoli.

During the visit of Herr von Kiderlin-Waechter, the basis for a removal of the triple alliance between Germany, Austria-Hungary and Italy will be discussed.

Evidently aiming at exerting an influence on Italy's decision, Austria has made a move intended to revive the Roman question, having put forward the inquiry whether an international guarantee might be found with a view to secure the freedom and independence of the papacy under present conditions in Italy.

Shortly after the taking of Rome in 1870 Italy herself might have accepted such an international guarantee, which the Marquis Emilie Visconti Venoata, who was then Italian foreign minister, suggested, but now it would certainly be rejected on the ground that it was foreign interference in Italian internal affairs.

KNOX ADDRESSES NEW YORK LAWYERS

The meeting ended the first day's sessions of the associations annual meeting, which is to conclude tomorrow night with a banquet at which President Taft is to be the guest of honor.

United States Senator Elihu Root, president of the organization, introduced Secretary Knox, whose topic was "The Monroe Doctrine and Some Incidental Obligations in the Zone of the Caribbean."

HUSBAND AND CHILD JAILED WITH WOMAN

Rome, Ga., January 19.—(Special)—Mrs. Julia Little, her child and husband, Henry Little, spent last night in the county jail. The husband and baby were merely being allowed to stay with Mrs. Little, who was under arrest on a warrant issued in Walker county charging her with perjury. She arrived in Lindale Wednesday, and the warrant was served Thursday. She was brought to the county jail and her husband and baby accompanied her. The jailer felt sympathy for her, as she could not make bond, and he allowed her husband and baby to stay with her. The sheriff of Walker county arrived today, and she was carried back there.

HONOR REQUISITION FOR FARGASON

Springfield, Ill., January 19.—(Special.)—Charged with stealing an express package containing $7,000 in currency on December 16, 1911, from the Southern Express Company while acting as messenger fo the company on the railroad between Macon and Griffin, Ga., Robin C. Fargason is under arrest in Chicago. Governor Deneen today honored the requisition of the governor of Georgia for return to Atlanta. It is charged that Fargason was carrying the package from Macon to Griffin but that he left the train at Atlanta and fled from the state.

"I've had a terrible day at the office, and I'm mad clean through," announced the husband, coming home.

"Now would be a good time to beat the rugs," replied his wife.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

MRS. MORSE IS PLANNING FOR HER HUSBAND'S FUTURE

Elated by the commutation of her husband's sentence, and optimistic over the future, Mrs. C. W. Morse is now looking forward to an improvement in her husband's condition, which may eventually allow him to return to New York and to make his home there.

"If Mr. Morse improves sufficiently we hope to go back to New York and make that our residence," she told a Constitution representative last evening. "I like Atlanta and its people. They have been very kind to us, but New York is our preference."

"How does your husband enjoy his pardon?" she was asked.

"You know he is delighted beyond measure," she answered; "how would you enjoy a pardon of the nature received by Mr. Morse?"

"I will stay in Atlanta until the recovery of Mr. Morse," she said. "I do not know when he will be in a condition that would warrant a removal of any kind. I haven't yet talked with him on that subject. All that I know is that he was resting much easier tonight. We have not arranged for anything, as yet. I do not definitely know where he will be carried when he gets better. I will prepare a place for him some time tomorrow."

When asked regarding the fight she had made for her husband's pardon, Mrs. Morse was reluctant to talk.

"All I can say," she answered, "is that our many friends who rendered their assistance have my husband's and my own most heartfelt thanks. Mere words would be inadequate to express our appreciation."

Mrs. Moorse, was in high spirits Se greeted acquaintances and friends with a hearty handshake, and beamed upon everyone. Owing to the long journey she retired early, stating her intentions to visit Mr. Morse early this morning.

"PASSION PLAY" BENEFIT FOR ATLANTA ELKS' LODGE

Announcement has just been made that Henry Ellsworth, who is now showing the "Passion Play" in Atlanta, will give a benefit performance for the Elks' lodge No. 78 at the Grand on Sunday evening.

"We consider ourselves very fortunate in procuring the services of Brother Henry Ellsworth to give his pictorial reproduction tomorrow evening at 8:30 o'clock at the Grand opera house for the benefit of the Atlanta lodge of Elks," said Exalted Ruler Walter Andrews last night.

"The lecturer is an Elk himself, a life member of Dayton, Ohio, lodge, and has given this entertainment on numerous occasions for Elks' lodges and on two occasions for the grand lodges.

"The subject of this lecture is 'The Passion Play,' which is one of the greatest, most celebrated and most stirring dramas ever performed by human actors.

"This great drama is religious, portraying the last days of Christ, His trial before Pontius Pilate, His conviction, crucifixion and final ascension, etc. This great drama is performed in the beautiful and picturesque little Bavarian village of Oberammergau every ten years in compliance with a vow made by those pious people to God for the halting of a great plague. This performance has now been given for 300 years.

"Brother Ellsworth has lived in Oberammergau for twelve summers and is thoroughly imbued with his subject. I have witnessed his presentation since he has been in Atlanta. He has a great number of most striking stereopticon views thoroughly picturing and explaining his subject from the beginning to the end. His explanatory lecture accompanying the views is most lucid and entertaining. I have had the pleasure myself of visiting Oberammergau and shaking hands with Anton Lang, who played the part of Christ in this drama in 1900 and 1910. I was exceedingly interested in Brother Ellsworth's performance and it is certainly worth the while for every Elk and his family as well as the public to see the great 'Passion Play' without having to travel 10,000 miles to see it."

PARK STREET CHURCH STONE TO BE LAID THIS AFTERNOON

The corner stone of the Park Street Methodist church will be laid this afternoon at 3 o'clock and by May 1 the magnificent building will be ready for dedication.

The cornerstone exercises will be conducted by Dr. W. B. Lovejoy and Dr. J. M. Cofer, assisted by Dr. S. R. Belk, pastor of the church. The members of the church and the Sunday school children are especially invited by the pastor to be present and take part in the exercises.

Park Street Methodist church was organized twenty-five years ago by Dr. Howard L. Crumley, its first pastor, and within the quarter of a century has had remarkable growth. The new building, when completed, will be one of the handsomest church edifices in the city and will cost approximately $50,000. Rev. Dr. Belk has been pastor of the church for one year and during that time has had remarkable success. During that year there have been 350 additions to the church membership.

COLORED COOKING SCHOOL FORMALLY OPENED FRIDAY

The formal opening of the cooking school at the First Congregational church, colored, took place yesterday afternoon, and a large number of colored women was present.

In his address of welcome, Rev. H. H. Proctor, the pastor, told of his desire to make the church useful to the whole city of Atlanta. His mother had been a cook and he wanted to open this department in memory of her. Added to this was the desire to render a direct service to the colored working girl, and by teaching her to raise cooking to the dignity of a fine art, to take her feet from the slippery ground of temptation and put them on the solid rock of economic independence. The best protection to any woman is herself, and it was the aim of this department of the church to develop in the colored working girl that skill, independence and self-respect that will be her best protection.

Mrs. Samuel D. Jones, Mrs. W. R. Hammond and Mrs. J. E. Sutherland were present and spoke words of commendation and encouragement.

Several talks were made by colored women, showing their interest in the work. Harriet Hodge, who will have charge of the cooking school, outlined the work for the year. The aim of the school will be to teach plain and fancy cooking, so that the cook will be able to do better work at once. One will be shown how to take the inexpensive cuts of meat and make them as palatable as the best. To those desiring a full three years' course in domestic science will be given. Regular lectures and demonstrations will be given from time to time free to the public.

Miss Isma Dooly, representing The Constitution, expressed her willingness to do anything she could to promote the interest of the school.

CUBAN TANGLE NOT SETTLED

Nunez Denies the Reported Pledge. Conference Favors Stop of Agitation.

Havana, January 19.—A possible serious obstacle in the program for the unification of all factions of Cubans with the purpose of reconciling political differences in the face of the threat of intervention by the United States arose today when General Emilio Nunez, president of the Veterans' Association, issued a statement denying the correctness of the official note given out at the palace last night following a conference of the president with prominent men of all factions, which announced that Nunez had given his pledge to President Gomez that agitation by the veterans would immediately stop.

General Nunez still is disposed to preserve the veterans' organization and affirm the constitutional rights of army officers and members of the rural guard to attend the veterans' meeting. In this, he apparently has the support of a majority of the veterans.

At a meeting in the Veterans' Club today, attended by many prominent revolutionary generals, sentiment strongly favored a continuance of the agitation against the holding of office by so-called traitors and guerillas who formerly were actively opposed to the cause of Cuban independence, but it was ecided to forego further activities in view of the present crisis which is perilous to Cuban nationality.

Many revolutionary generals from all parts of the island, the most prominent of whom was Mario Menocal, secretary of justice, held a long conference this afternoon at the palace with President Gomez. Great interest attached to the gathering. While no official statement has yet been given out concerning it, General Menocal, when leaving, told the Associated Press that President Gomez had requested all the conferees to give their views of what is the best course to pursue. He said that no definite policy had been adopted, but that the utmost harmony characterized the gathering.

All those present, General Menocal said, agreed that it was the duty of Cubans to face the present emergency by sinking all political considerations and loyally unite in giving aid to President Gomez in compelling obedience to the constitution and laws of the country and avoiding the faintest excuse for American intervention. He said another conference probably would be held tomorrow.

"Got My Sore Foot in It Right!--TIZ"

"A TIZ Bath, My Boy, a TIZ Bath! You Can't Beat It for Sore Feet, Corns and Bunions!"

Is this man a tender-foot? No. He is a joy-walker—one who uses TIZ and gets from the feet a happiness one never felt before.

When your feet are so tired they feel like stumps, when they acne so that they hurt way up to your heart, when you shamble your feet along and it seems as though all the misery you ever had has settled in your feet, look at the happy TIZ man in the picture.

You can be happy-footed just the same. If you have corns and bunions that everybody seems to step on, just think of this happy TIZ man. He had corns and bunions, too. This man used TIZ, and now he has no more tender, raw, chafed, blistered, swollen, tired, smelly feet, corns, callouses or bunions.

As soon as you put your feet in a TIZ bath, you feel the happiness soaking in. It's like mountain ozone to lungs.

Nothing else but TIZ can give you this happy foot feeling. Don't accept any substitutes.

TIZ, 25 cents a box, sold everywhere, or sent direct, on receipt of price, by Walter Luther Dodge & Co., Chicago, Ill. Recommended by all Drug Stores, department and general stores.

ADVERTISING TALKS.

hood into young manhood, who must travel about six years yet before he attains full manhood—who has ALREADY ACCOMPLISHED MORE than most of us have who are thirty-five years older than he.

What is the matter with us? Why haven't we done something worth while?

Is it lack of application—sticking to one thing long enough to win a triumph in it?

About this business of advertising—DO WE STICK TO IT AS WE SHOULD? Are we serious enough about it? Don't we take too much for granted about it?

Young Rubinstein has stuck to ONE THING all of his young life. What will he accomplish years hence?

In advertising we do not HARMONIZE as we should. We strike too many discords. When we strike a sharp note some fellow comes along and says we made a mistake; we should have struck a flat note.

Another fellow comes along and says what good is a sharp or a flat note by itself? He says you must HARMONIZE the SHARP, THE FLAT AND THE NATURAL NOTES TO GET THE RIGHT RESULTS. He is right.

But it takes PRACTICE—lots of it— A PERSISTENT STICK-TO-IT-IVENESS to make every advertisement that one prepares harmonize. A false note is struck here and there—that can't be helped during the practice stage—but after awhile each advertisement touches the same keys and the result is a CONTINUOUS SERIES of advertisements that harmonize in FACT TELLING, CONFIDENCE BUILDING and RESULT BRINGING.

Let us practice. Let us master our subject.

Chronic Diseases

THE reason many doctors do not have success in treating chronic or long-standing diseases is because they do not get to the cause of the trouble—incorrect diagnosis. I have helped many a chronic invalid by being able to find the cause and removing it. That's why I have been called a crank on diagnosis. My 35 years of experience in such diseases, including diseases of men and nervous disorders, have made it possible for me to obtain success in many cases where others have failed. I have some original ideas regarding the diseases in which I specialize which are set forth in my monographs. They're free by mail in plain sealed wrapper. My office hours are 8 to 7; Sundays and holidays, 10 to 1. Examination is free.
